CABINET BACKS UP WILSON'S POLICY

Every Phase of Situation Discussed by Them at Meeting Yesterday.

FORCE HUERTA TO RETIRE

President and Secretary Bryan Hope to Bring About Settlement Without Lifting Embargo on Arms. Hale Now in Mexico.

Washington, Nov. 11.—President Wilson's cabinet stands firmly behind him in his efforts to force the retirement of Provisional President Huerta. For more than two hours today the cabinet discussed every phase of the Mexican situation, and the concensus of opinion was that the United States should take not a single backward step in its announced programme.

Though cabinet members were reticent afterwards about expressing their views, it became known that all favored steps which would convince Huerta that the United States was in earnest in its demand that he eliminate himself from the situation. On the question of raising the embargo on arms, the cabinet members expressed various opinions.

There is a hope on the part of both the President and Secretary Bryan that a measure so radical as permitting exportation of arms may not be required to solve the problem. Influences are at work, which, in the opinion of many officials, may force the early collapse of the Huerta regime. There is a closer understanding, for instance, and more frequent communication between the State Department and foreign governments generally than has been in evidence at any time since the Mexican problem became so widely international.

Not only through the American embassies and legations abroad, but through the diplomatic corps in Washington, Secretary Bryan is giving such detailed information of the American policy as to leave no doubt of what the United States would like to see accomplished.

No Request for Support.

So far as is known, there have been no direct requests for foreign support. What the United States is seeking is an acquiescence in its policy by the powers, such an approval to carry with it discouragement of financial aid to the Huerta regime.

A few weeks of financial isolation, it is believed by high officials here, will force the retirement of Huerta.

That President Wilson might issue a statement in a day or two making a comprehensive explanation of the purposes of the United States, was indicated by some diplomats. It has been suggested to the President that such a declaration might place on record before the world the reasons why the elections conducted by the Huerta government could not be recognized by the United States.

It is reported that in this connection the President may announce in advance the repudiation of any acts of the new Congress, which General Huerta has said would be convened on November 20th.

President Wilson was in communication again today through Senator Bacon with members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Republicans and Democrats alike are supporting the policy of the executive and he is giving serious consideration to their views, as to the removal of the embargo on arms.

It was reported today that Sir Edward Tyrrell, private secretary to the British foreign minister, Sir Edward Grey, had obtained Secretary Bryan's views on the situation, and had transmitted them in a long report of the situation to Lor on.

Senor de la Vega, Cuban charge here, today denied for his government a report that two Cuban warships had been offered the Constitutionalists.

Silver Freer in Mexico.

Mexico City, November 11.—Emilio Zepata, the rebel whose operations have caused the government so much trouble in the Southern States, is again on the point of surrendering, according to official information issued today.

An emissary from Zapata was said to have conferred with President Huerta who offered the rebel a safe conduct to the Federal capital in order to conclude peace.

It is not generally expected that Zapata will accept the proposal.

The minister of finance today authorized the Mexican banks of issue to pay out silver coin at their discretion. This is a modification of a recent decree by Huerta forbidding such payment. In order that the banks may not weaken their reserves, however, government inspectors have been instructed to see that the silver holdings of the bank do not fall below the legal requirement.

Silver withdrawals from the Bank of London and Mexico and the National Bank were ersumed today though they were less pronounced than yesterday.

Confers With Cabinet.

Mexico City, Nov. 11.—Gen. Huerta presided over a meeting of his cabinet today, but up to a late hour the character of the discussion could not be learned.

At the American embassy, it was said this evening that no message had been received from Washington bearing directly on the situation. Both the Charge D'Affaires Nelson O'Shaughnessy and President Wilson's personal representative, John Lind, showed anxiety.

The run on the Bank of London and Mexico continued up to closing hours in full force and in a lesser degree on the National Bank.

RESULTS OF SEVERE STORM

Great Lakes Give Up Their Dead After Bitter Blizzard of Last Sunday —Six Bodies Washed Ashore and Many Missing.

Calumet, Mich., Nov. 11.—Capt. J. W. Duddleson, of the steamer L. C. Waldo, of Detroit, which was broken in two at Gull Rock, Manitou island, told of the wreck upon his arrival with his crew of 25 men and two women aboard the tug Herbard, at Houghton tonight.

The Waldo was bound from Two Harbors for Erie with a cargo of iron ore. The storm struck her at 11:45 o'clock Friday night. The high waves tore off the forward house and pilot house and all structures in the forward part of the ship. The compasses were lost and connections with the electric lighting system were broken. Capt. Duddleson had only a small, inaccurate compass which he was enabled to follow with the aid of a lantern held by one of the crew.

After being tossed for 18 hours the boat finally struck the reef. Often the crew were in imminent danger of being washed overboard.

Until the arrival of the tug Hebard, carrying the life saving crew of the Portage Lake ship canal, shortly after 7 o'clock this morning, the Waldo's crew was without food.

The Waldo is valued at $300,000. Capt. Duddleson believes the boat is a total loss.

Capt. T. Paddington and crew of 16 of the steamer Turret Chief, of Ontario, which foundered six miles east of Copper Harbor, Keweenaw Point, at 4 o'clock Saturday morning, arrived in Calumet tonight.

Frost bitten, thinly clad and without food since Friday night the crew reached Copper Harbor yesterday afternoon, being directed there by a trapper. Today they reached Mandan and got into communication with civilization.

A few of the crew were asleep when the Turret Chief drifted ashore. The men were thrown from their beds and had time to don but little clothing. A number of them were compelled to leave the boat barefoot and several of these suffered frost bitten feet. The crew picked their way to the mainland, hastily built a hut to shelter them until yesterday morning.

Members of the crew believe that the Turret Chief, a steel boat valued at $100,000, will be a total loss.

The steamer was bound light for Medlein, Ont., for Fort William and was struck by the gale while 110 miles northwest of White Fish Point Friday night. She drifted more than 100 miles with the waves washing over her decks.

The steamer L. C. Waldo, of the Robin Transportation Company, went to pieces last night on Gull Rock, Manitou Island. The crew was rescued by the Portage Lake Ship Canal life savers. The sailors suffered severely from exposure.

The tug J. W. Hebard arrived at Houghton this afternoon with the crew of 26 men and two women. The captain and the crew had been without food for 90 hours up to the time they were rescued.

The Waldo went on Gull Rock at about 8 o'clock Saturday morning in a 60-mile northwest gale. She struck in one of the worst parts of Lake Superior and almost immediately broke in two.

The Canadian steamer Guerephis, of the Merchants' Mutual Line of Ontaria, is high on shore six miles east of Copper Harbor, Keweenaw Point. The crew of 17 arrived at Copper Harbor at noon today, suffering terribly from hunger and frost bitten feet.

Fears Confirmed.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 11.—Fragments of wreckage tossed ashore along many miles of lake front today confirmed the fear that the storm which lashed Lake Erie Sunday and Monday had claimed its toll death. Six men perished when lightship No 8 was torn from her anchorage 15 miles up the lake and either foundered or was shattered on the break wall during the blinding snow storm Monday.

At Lorain, O., the freight steamer G. J. Grammer is hard ashore and in a dangerous position. Life savers are standing by but are unable to take off the crew because of heavy seas.

The first news of possible disaster to the lightship was brought by the captain of the ore carrier Champlain, the first vessel to make port since Sunday. He informed Capt. Fred Herbert, of the government tender Crosus, that the vessel was missing and Herbert reported to Lighthouse Inspector Roscoe House, who at once started up the lake. About the same time Inspector House received word that wreckage was coming ashore at the foot of Michigan street. A door, some broken panels and other wreckage identified as part of the lightship, floated in.

Inspector House chartered a tug and joined in the search. No trace of the lightship was found, however, and when this afternoon one of her boats was picked up all hope was abandoned.

In the life boat were life preservers. A broken ore was still fastened to a row lock.

Warm Weather Predicted.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 11.—With fair, warmer weather predicted for tomorrow, Cleveland tonight is hopeful of a speedy cessation of the difficulties that have beset the city since the

ADMINISTRATION MEMBERS HOLD OUT

Will Not Meet With Banking and Currency Committee Until After Conference

DEMOCRATS CONFER TODAY

Republican Members of Committee Prepare Report to be Submitted to Senate—Adjourn Until After Today's Caucus.

Washington, November 11.—Declining to meet with the Senate Banking and Currency Committee pending action on the currency bill by the Democratic conference called for tomorrow, the four "administration" committee members today continued the preparation of their report to the conference. The other committeemen agreed to adjourn until Thursday to await the outcome of the conference.

The administration Senators, Owen, Hillis, Pomorene and Shafroth, will present to the conference their version of what the President will accept in the way of currency legislation. They will report the administration bill as it passed the House, it is expected, with but a single important amendment. The other changes will be alterations of phraseology calculated to correct errors or make the meaning clear. It is understood that the President is willing to yield one important change, the elimination of the words "or lawful money" from the redemption section of the bill, making the proposed new currency redeemable only in gold.

Republican members of the committee decided to await the action of the caucus before taking affirmative steps, but they are planning a report to the Senate which will recommend a measure based on the general lines of the Glass bill.

They will include, however, the amendments which the Senate Committee adopted providing for not more than four regional banks, to be publicly owned and controlled by the government as opposed to the administration plan for bank-owned and bank-controlled regional banks.

Constitution to Be Revised By League

Columbus, Ohio, November 11.—Revision of the constitution of the Anti-Saloon League of America in order to make possible a campaign for Nation-wide prohibition managed from National headquarters, will be effected at tomorrow's session of the league's convention here, according to announcement tonight by the National board of trustees.

The trustees today discussed a plan of re-organization which will make the State superintendents appointive by a National board of directors and responsible to the National superintendent.

Wealthy State leagues will assist poorer organizations under the proposed constitution.

It is proposed also to divide the country into 16 districts over each of which will be a member of the National executive committee to supervise anti-liquor campaigns.

Belated trains brought hundreds of delegates to the convention today and raised the number of official delegates to about 3,000. Others are expected tomorrow.

Mrs. Mary Harris Armor, of the Georgia Woman's Christian Temperance Union, addressed the committee on temperance. Delegates stood on chairs to applaud her and hundreds crowded the platform after the meeting to congratulate her.

Rev. P. A. Baker, general superintendent of the league, vigorously attacked Governor James M. Cox, of Ohio. After declaring that Ohio had sullied her good name by adopting a liquor license law, Dr. Baker continued:

"If the liquor people do not pension the present Governor, James M. Cox, upon his retirement from office for life, they ought to be prosecuted for criminal ingratitude.

"Governor Cox has succeeded in hammering into form through liquor licensing boards what is probably destined to be the most corrupt political machine this State has ever seen."

VOTE FOR STRIKE.

Ninety-eight Per Cent. of Employes May Walk Out.

Houston, Texas, November 11.—Ninety-eight per cent. of the membership of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Order of Railway Conductors and Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Yardmen employed on the Sunset Central lines, have voted to go on strike unless the company changes from its former position and concedes to a settlement of all grievances of the four organizations jointly.

Canvass of the referendum vote was completed and the result announced tonight. The vote empowers officials of the unions to order out 2,500 enginemen, conductors and other employes on the New Orleans to El Paso division of the Southern Pacific if efforts to arrange a conference with the officials of the road fail or if the conference is without result.

Norfolk, Va., November 11.—Shelton Cheery, aged 40, was given five years on the public roads today by Judge Barron, charged with beating his wife and his 14-year-old step daughter.

MISS WILSON'S WEDDING GIFT

House of Representatives to Select Present for White House Bride Different from Usual Tea and Coffee Service.

Washington, November 11.—A pendent made up of one canary diamond weighing six and one-half karats surrounded by 85 smaller diamonds arranged in a pear-shape and attached to a neck chain in which smaller diamonds are set will be the gift of the House of Representatives to Miss Jessie Wilson when she marries Francis B. Sayre in the White House on November 25th.

The members of the House contributed more than $2,000 for the gift.

Republican Leader Mann, chairman of the committee to select the present, in a statement today explained that the committee studied many designs and had the advice and aid of Miss Genevieve Clark, daughter of the Speaker.

"Many beautiful pieces and sets of silverware were suggested," said Mr. Man, "but the committee finally determined to select something with more of an individual and special character than the conventional tea and coffee service with its accompanying silver pieces—something which the lady will learn to love more and more with time—an ornament for personal use which will give constant pleasure to the owner—a thing of rare and singular beauty neither ostentatious nor glaringly ornate.

"As the love and respect of the whole American people will go with Miss Wilson through her entire life, this unique reminder of that love will always be with her, undimmed and untarnished by the lapse of years."

The gift will be in a jewelry box with the following inscription:

"Presented to Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson by the members of the United States House of Representatives as a token of their affectionate Interest and regard, on her marriage, November 25th, 1913."

When Senator Martine's clerical force reached his office today they found a waiting line of well-dressed, eager-eyed men who appeared too prosperous for officeseekers. A clerk opened the office door and the waiting line passed through, each man with a card, each card inscribed, "Mr. So and So, representing such and Such, Jewelers."

A new procession appeared intermittently all day and every mail brought catalogues from some would-be purveyor of jewels and silver to the Senator from New Jersey, who has undertaken to buy a wedding present on behalf of the Senate for Miss Wilson.

Wedding Cake Cooked.

New York, November 11.—Miss Jessie Wilson's wedding cake was baked here today. The first layer of the cake is four inches thick and twenty-two inches across. When ready for the knife the cake will weigh 135 pounds and will be two and one-half feet tall if one counts the vase of white orchids to be placed on top. It will cost about $500 and will contain nineteen ingredients. In 2,000 dainty white boxes tied with satin ribbon the cake will be distributed, each box the proper size to go under one's pillow to dream upon.

Over the body of the cake will be molded a thick white icing scoll work "Then," to quote the artist who is making it, "there will be a design for the initials of the bride and bridegroom, done in silver. And then there will be lilies of the valley in white sugar on the sides."

SCHOONER DAMAGED.

Storm Off South Carolina Coast Creates Havoc.

Charleston, S. C., November 11.—The schooner Jennie E. Righter, lumber laden, Fernandina to New York, is off Charleston harbor reported badly damaged.

It is thought likely that she can enter the harbor tomorrow for repairs. The waterlogged schooner Grace Seymour, which was towed here today by the revenue cutter Yamacraw is anchored off East Battery awaiting instructions from the owners. The Seymour was carrying lumber from Owens Ferry to New York.

OUTLINES

The annual meeting of the United Daughters of the Confederacy at New Orleans began last night.

Representatives from twelve countries are confering together in London regarding more safety at sea from fire.

Congressmen have contributed more than $2,000 toward the purchase of a handsome wedding present for Miss Jessie Wilson, whose wedding at the White House takes place on the 25th.

Misplaced confidence has lost to the blue jackets of the battleships in foreign waters several thousand dollars and may prevent their taking a much-expected visit to the Pope at Rome.

Results of the severe storm on the Great Lakes is becoming known now that the worst of the storm is over. Six bodies have been washed ashore and fear is expressed for many more.

The four "administration" members of the Banking and Currency Committee refused to meet with the rest of the committee yesterday until after the conference of Democratic Senators which is to be held today. The Republican members are preparing a new bill to be presented to the Senate.

George H. McGuire, of Syracuse, changed his mind in regard to a telegram Hennessy told the district attorney of New York was sent him by McGuire. After denying it twice McGuire remembered that he had sent it when he learned that evidence showing that fact had been presented to the attorney's office.

Blue Jackets Lost Large Bit of Money

Rome, November 11.—The blue jackets of the American battleships Utah and Delaware now at Ville Franche, and of the Vermont and Ohio at Marseilles, through misplaced confidence may miss a trip to Rome for which they have been making preparation.

Alfonso Calderozzo, a former bandsman on the Utah, on recommendation of Chaplain William H. Reaney, was made the custodian of the $3,000 fund which the sailors set aside for this purpose. It was reported to Chaplain Reaney this morning that Calderozzo could not be found.

In the afternoon Gerald A. Griffin, paymaster's clerk of the Utah, arrived at Rome. He said he had met Calderozzo at Ventimiglia, on the Franco-Italian frontier. The latter explained he would not be able to fulfill his obligations to the sailors and Griffin urged him to telegraph immediately to the captain of the battleship a full explanation of the situation.

Chaplain Reaney after hearing this story left immediately for Ville Franche to ascertain all the facts. He said he would reimburse the sailors, if necsary, and added thae even the Protestant chaplain, on his suggestion had entrusted Calderozzo with funds which he had collected from some of the Protestant sailors.

Toulon, France, November 11.—A delegation of American officers and men visited the French naval base today. The Americans wore around their arms ribbons bearing the names of the French warships. The visitors were warmly received and on their departure, great crowds gathered around the station and cheered them, the French and American sailors exchanging the most friendly good-byes.

Naples, Nov. 11.—Officers and blue jackets of the American battleships Arkansas and Florida were spectators today at an imposing army review in honor of the birthday of King Victor Immanuel.

The American officers rose amid loud applause to salute the 11th Bersaglieri regiment which had just returned from Tripoli.

Paris, Nov. 11.—A large detachment of blue jackets from the United States battleships visiting Marseilles and Ville Franche, arrived in Paris today on a sightseeing trip.

Malta, Nov. 11.—The battleship Wyoming, flagship of the United States squadron visiting European ports, sailed from here for Naples today.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Major General William Phillips Biddle, commandant of the United States Marine Corps, and an officer of the corps for more than 38 years, has asked for retirement on account of ill health. Secretary Daniels has not decided what action he will take. General Biddle is a native of Pennsylvania, and was appointed from that State in 1875. He is 60 years old.

Seward, Alaska, November 11.—The steamer Dora, which arrived today from the Westward reports 110 cases of measles at Afognak, about the same number at Kenai and 25 cases at Seldovia. Kodiak has the situation well in hand, due to a strict quarantine.

M'GUIRE ADMITS SENDING MESSAGE

Twice Denied It, But When Presented With Perjury Indictment, He Admitted.

RESULTS OF INVESTIGATION

Witnesses Brought Before the District Attorney to Prove That Telegram Signed "M" Received from McGuire.

New York, Nov. 11.—George H. McGuire, of Syracuse, who denied under oath last Thursday that he had sent a telegram to John A. Hennessy, former Governor Sulzer's graft investigator relative to political contributions, today admitted he was the author of the telegram.

A threat of indictment for perjury was hanging over him when the admission fell from his lips and he left the witness stand almost in a state of collapse. A physician was called to attend him.

McGuire was testifying for the second time in the John Doe inquiry instituted by District Attorney Whitman into Hennessy's charges that contractors on State work had been "sandbagged" into making campaign contributions to Tammany Hall. Hennessy had testified that he obtained most of his information from McGuire and that the latter had sent him a telegram from Syracuse signed "M." setting forth that William H. Kelly, Democratic leader of Onondaga county, had been helping Arthur A. McLean, treasurer of the Democratic State committee to "shake down" State highway contractors. McGuire last Thursday unequivocally denied that he had anything to do with the telegram.

Today District Attorney Whitman sent before the grand jury three witnesses who gave testimony to show that McGuire had not told the truth. One of these was a stenographer in McGuire's office; another a typewriter expert who took with him a typewriter from McGuire's office.

McGuire Collapsed.

McGuire was informed of the contemplated action of the District Attorney against him and soon afterward his friends telephoned Mr. Whitman saying he had collapsed. They asked Mr. Whitman what he would promise "if McGuire told the truth." The district attorney said he would promise nothing, but that McGuire would be indicted for perjury if he did not tell the truth

McGuire was shown the original of the telegram when he took the stand and was asked if he had written it.

"Yes," said the witness, "I have refreshed my memory; I wrote it."

Mr. Whitman then questioned McGuire regarding a conversation with Hennessy in Utica at which, according to the graft investigator, McGuire gave him a list of contractors who had been "sand bagged."

In his testimony Thursday the witness denied having given Hennessy this information.

McGuire was growing visibly nervous. "As I remember it," he said, "my testimony as to that was correct."

At this point his attorney requested an adjournment until Thursday. He explained that his client had suffered an "utter physical and mental collapse" and was not in condition to go on with his testimony. The request was granted.

McGuire was preceded on the stand by Eugene D. Wood, the Albany lobbyist, from whom Hennessy said he got his alleged information that Edward E. McCall, defeated Tammany candidate for mayor, paid for his nomination as Supreme Court justice in 1902. Wood denied every essential part of Hennessy's story.

Murphy Protests Nomination.

The rank and file of Tammany Hall heard today that Charles F. Murphy was about to protest to President Wilson against the appointment of Dudley Field Malone as collector of the port of New York to succeed Mayor-elect John Purroy Mitchell. According to the report detectives have investigated Mr. Malone's record as assistant corporation counsel of New York, aiming to learn whether he was absent for many weeks during the presidential campaign and thereafter. These detectives, it was reported, also sought to ascertain whether Mr. Malone had drawn pay for the time he was absent should such absence be proved. Their findings, according to current political gossip, were given Mr. Murphy. Last night, the story goes, Mr. Murphy consulted several others high in the counsels of Tammany and decided to put forth every effort against Mr. Malone's nomination.

An amplified account of the story, published here today, asserts that a trusted messenger bearing Mr. Murphy's protest left on the midnight train for Washington.

Murphy tonight denied that he had sent any protest to Washington.

Mr. Malone is the son-in-law of Senator O'Gorman, who is not at odds with the Tammany Association. For some time past, however, Mr. Malone has aligned himself with the progressive element of the Democratic party. In the recent mayoralty campaign he spoke for the fusion candidates and against the Tammany nominee.

Absurd Says Malone.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Dudley Field Malone, whose nomination as collector of customs for the port of New York has been sent to the Senate, returned to Washington today from Atlantic City. Asked about the reported investigation of his record by Charles F. Murphy, Mr. Malone said it was too absurd to comment on. White House officials said they had heard of no emissary from Murphy bearing any protest against Mr. Malone.

CONVENTION HELD IN CRESCENT CITY

Thousands of Patriotic Women Gather in Southern Metropolis.

U. D. C. AT NEW ORLEANS

Daughters of Confederacy Under the Leadership of Mrs. White, President General, Meet in Famous Old Hotel.

New Orleans, Nov. 11.—A recounting of achievements of the United Daughters of the Confederacy by President General Mrs. Alexander B. White, featured the first business session of the 20th annual convention of the organization here tonight. Socially the convention was opened this afteroon with a trip over the harbor.

Delegates from every State in the South and some from the North, East and West are here for the meeting which will remain in session until Saturday.

Of the preliminary work of committees that of the one considering plans for the monument on the Shiloh battlefield, for which $50,000 has been collected, attracted most attention. Another committee is considering raising funds to provide a home for needy Confederate women. The Shiloh monument committee has had several meetings without selecting any of the artists' models presented and will not be ready for report until at least one more meeting takes place. All of the committee work is done in secret and will not be made public until reported to the convention.

Only two candidates are in the field for election as president general. They are Mrs. Nathan D. Eller, of Virginia, and Mrs. Daisy McLaurin Stevens, daughter of the late Senator McLaurin, of Mississippi.

While interest in the election is more or less keen there has been little evidence so far of a spirited contest.

The daughters were welcomed officially tonight by officers of the New Orleans chapter U. D. C. Between the three business sessions each day some entertainment has been provided.

The Address.

New Orleans, November 11.—"Loyalty to the truth of Confederate history," was declared the chief motive of the United Daughters of the Confederacy by Mrs. Alexander B. White, president general, in her address to the annual convention of the organization here tonight.

President General White devoted her attention chiefly to a detailed recital of the work already done by the Daughters of the Confederacy toward commemorating the bravery and achievements of Southern soldiers.

She called attention to the fact that although the U. D. C. formed in 1894, already has a membership of more than 90,000, with active chapters in 33 States. She said that every member is of strictly Southern lineage.

In outlining the results accomplished by the United Daughters of the Confederacy, Mrs. White said: "We have held out the hand of hope to our dear Veterans by showing our pride in thechaplet of fame they wove for the South. We have aided them in feebleness and old age by getting pensions for them; by building homes for them and for Confederate widows."

Mrs. White called to mind the fact that in times of disaster, no matter in what section of the country, the members of the organization invariably had been among the first to contribute funds for the relief of suffering.

Honor and Reverence.

"One of our chief objects," she continued, "is to show honor and reverence to Confederate heroes, living and dead. Nearly 70,000 crosses of honor have been conferred. So faithfully have we commemorated the deeds and lives of heroes of the South with monuments, tablets and memorials, that we now are called the 'Monument Builders.'"

In this connection Mrs. White spoke of the monument erected to Jefferson Davis at Richmond, Va., in 1907. She characterized this memorial which cost $71,000 as the organization's most ambitious undertaking. Continuing she said:

"Last November the laying of the cornerstone of the Arlington monument at Washington, was a most brilliant occasion and we are eagerly looking forward to the unveiling of the great monument that will breathe the spirit of the South in the shadow of that home which stands for nobleness and duty."

Mrs. White said that the design for the monument at the Shiloh National Military Park to commemorate the valour of the entire Confederate army, would be selected in New Orleans.

Regarding the desire to perpetuate the history of the Confederacy, she said: "Eagerly we await the great historian who shall write truthfully and understadingly of the South and for his coming we cherish every paper, relic and letter they may help to tell the story. So all will be ready to his hand in our Confederate Museum at Richmond, the treasure house of those who built the Confederacy's glory out of deathless dreams."

CREW RESCUED.

All Except Cook on Barge J. R. Teel Are Safe.

Beaufort, N. C., November 11—The crew of the lumber-laden barge, J. R. Teel, from Jacksonville for New York, which was dashed ashore on Cape Lookout Beach yesterday, were saved by the tug Wellington with the exception of the cook. The barge Southland was safely anchored in Cape Lookout cove.

BACK FROM PANAMA CANAL

Guns at Atlantic and Pacific Terminal Will Have a Range of 10 or 12 Miles—Sufficient to Protect the Locks at Either End.

Washington, Nov. 11. — Secretary Garrison returned to his desk today from his first trip to the Panama canal.

"The defenses constitute a marvelous feat in engineering," said Mr. Garrison. He explained that guns at the Atlantic and Pacific terminals will have a range of ten or twelve miles adequate to protect either Miraflores or Gatun locks.

"The first step towards developing the naval defense was taken today by the dispatch of five submarine boats from Guantanamo to Christobal.

"The first deep draft vessel to pass through the canal will be one of the government Panama railroad steamers now plying between New York and Colon, according to the plan Secretary Garrison has in contemplation. The secretary's idea is to allow Colonel Goethals all the time he requires to complete the canal and experiment with it. Then, having aboard President Wilson and some of the members of his cabinet, and the Congressional committees having jurisdiction over the canal, the Panama liner will pass through the waterway from Christobal on the Atlantic side, to Balboa, at the Pacific entrance."

Secretary Garrison said today that while no date could yet be fixed for this ceremony, he thought it certainly would be possible to pass deep draft vessels through by next Spring.

The Fram, Captain Amundsen's famous Antarctic ship, was lying in the harbor of Colon, when Secretary Garrison sailed from the isthmus. It has been promised that the Fram shall be among the first vessels to pass through the canal, on her way to Behring sea, conveying another Arctic exploring expedition.

Secretary Garrison and Colonel Goethals have some attention to plans for the conversion of a portion of the present employees into a force to operate the canal.

Colonel Goethals is desirous of retaining in the permanent establishment as many as possible of the employees who have made good records during their years of service in the construction of the canal.

One time these employees numbered 50,000, but this has been reduced from time to time, owing to the progress of the work, to about 35,000 at present. Reductions are being made at the rate of about 6,000 per month. Colonel Goethals estimates that about 5,000 men will be required to operate the canal, 1,500 "gold men" (high grade employees from the United States) and 3,500 "silver men" (manual labor), largely drawn from the West Indies and Europe.

MATTER OF CONJECTURE.

As to What Action National Association Will Take.

Columbus, O., Nov. 11.—What action will be taken by the convention of the National Association of Baseball Leagues on the demands of the players fraternity was a matter of conjecture here tonight.

Some magnates who attended the opening session of the convention today thought the demands would be referred to a committee, while others believed they would not even be presented.

Twenty-four leagues out of 43 holding membership in the association were represented at today's meeting. When delegations snow-bound at Cleveland, arrive it is thought that 30 baseball organizations will be credited with voting power. The convention will begin actual work tomorrow morning.

Governor Cox, of Ohio, and Governor Hooper, of Tennessee, were the central figures of the afternoon session. Ohio's executive welcomed the delegates to Ohio, and Tennessee's Governor reminded them that Nashville wants the next convention.

President M. H. Sexton, of the National Association, presided.

Secretary Farrell's roll call showed one or more delegates present from the following leagues: American Association, International, Pacific Coast, Western, Southern Association, Texas, Central, New England, New York State, Three I, Northwestern, South Atlantic, Virginia, Wisconsin-Illinois, Southern Michigan, Central Association, Ohio State, Illinois-Missouri, North Carolina, Michigan State, K. I. T., Nebraska State, New York-New Jersey, and California State.

Sessions of the National Board, which has 167 cases to hear, were commenced this morning, soon after the arrival of Chairman Farrell and it is thought the docket can be cleared by Thursday night.

MUST CALL CONVENTION.

Before Basis of Republican Representation Can be Changed.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Power to change the basis of representation in the Republican National Convention does not lie with the Republican National Committee, thought the committee has authority to call an intermediate convention to act upon the question. This was determined today by the law committee of the National Committe after an all day discussion of various questions referred to it preparatory to the meeting of the National committee here next month, to consider reorganization of the party.

The law branch decided that if the National Committee should decide to call a convention the basis of representation would have to be just what it has been in the past. It also was agreed that the committee has no power to alter the method of choosing delegates to future conventions and that it would be inexpedient to make such change except in accordance with State legislative action. The lawyers will make a draft of a call for a convention to be submitted to the committee's December meeting.

..Theatrical..

Tonight the Academy of Music offers the musical event of the season, in the way of musical comedy, when the stupendous production of the whirlwind attraction, "The Girl of My Dreams," will be offered. A tremendous company will be seen in this tremendous success and indications are that the Academy will be packed tonight. Seats are now selling at J. Hicks Bunting's drug store.

If you miss this entertainment you will fail to witness one of the most delightful treats offered to the theatre patrons in many a long day, according to the Academy management.

Such delightful music, such delicious comedy, such magnificent stage pictures are seldom combined in one musical piece, and the exceedingly attractiveness of it all is enhanced by the excellent company in the various roles and the pretty chorus.

"The Girl of My Dreams" is delightful. It is one of the most pronounced successes of recent years, according to the critics. Countess Olga Von Hatzfeldt, as Lucy Medders, the Quaker Girl, has earned new laurels. Her exquisite singing, her delightful acting and her clever dancing make her portrayal of the character one of the irresistible parts of the piece.

Roy Purviance has established himself as the droll and amusing "Speedy" bachelor. Eda Von Luke, Cecile Renard, Irving Brooks, Francis Gaillard, Neil Burns, Frank McEwen and W. D. Stone and others in the cast complete one of the best musical organizations.

The libretto of this musical play is of decided interest. There is no lack of comedy, which is of the kind that amuses and entertains. Combined with the humor is a pretty touch of sentiment and romance.

The music is glorious and is sung in a manner that brings out all of its charm and brilliancy. Miss Von Hatzfeldt sings several songs but makes two decided individual hits in her songs, "Oh-k-h (Maybe It's a Robber)" and "Dr. Tinkle Tinker."

A superb chorus and the original Harem-Scarem Pony Ballet are much in evidence throughout the action of the play.

Great Show at Bijou.

"The greatest show I have ever seen in a moving picture theatre. Really wonderful for the small price of admission." That was the opinion of a visitor to the popular Bijou yesterday and it must be echoed in the mind of every one who witnesses one of this week's shows at the Bijou. This is the banner week of all. The week when the Bijou has "sprung on the people" the most gigantic offering ever made in moving pictures, as it has combined with the regular bills three Warner feature days, and the Bijou holds the exclusive right to the Warner films for Wilmington. Today is one of the Warner days at the Bijou, and the star of today's show will be the great three-reel photoplay, "Regeneration." It is a vivid story of the curse of liquor, with a great moral in the reformation that takes place. It is a film of thrilling moments and many exciting scenes. A big cast, and one including many moving picture favorites, will be seen in the superb three-reel masterpiece. But this is not all, as the Bijou will today offer Essanay's greatest film thriller in "The Whip Hand." A fine cast will also be seen in this swell production.

No one should miss seeing the Bijou's brilliant shows running this week.

"Dear Old Girl" at Grand.

What has been pronounced one of the sweetest and tenderest of all film stories, Essanay's "Dear Old Girl," will be the star at the Grand Theatre today, the spot that is ever cozy. And this star is a special two-reel release. This means that it is the very latest and comes direct to Wilmington to the Grand. It is the story of a young collegian who is to marry, the wedding to take place at the Fraternity House, at Cornell. But the train bearing the bride is derailed and the bride is killed. The young collegian loses his mind and daily goes to the train to meet the bride, and his friends, appreciating the pathos of the occasion, humor him, until the end comes in a peculiar, yet beautiful way. It is a great film that will go straight to every heart and that will leave sweetest recollection.

In order to balance the programme the Grand will also offer a rattling good comedy, "Pete's Insurance Policy." A darky makes out like he is dead to collect the insurance. There is yet another daisy in "The Sea Scout of America."

RESUME WORK ON AEROPLANE

Experienced Aviator and Mechanician Arrives to Assist on the Palmgren Machine—Exhibitions Are Planned.

Jay Reed, the well known aviator and mechanician, hailing originally from Portland, Oregon, but for several years making New York his headquarters, has arrived in Wilmington to be actively associated with Mr. David Palmgren, the inventor of a new type of aeroplane, in the construction of his first machine, work on which has now been resumed after a suspension of several months. The work is being done at the hangar a few miles from the city.

Mr. Reed has been here for a week and stated last night that he is satisfied that the Palmgren invention will be a success and that the first flights will be made soon after the Christmas holidays unless something unforeseen develops in the construction of the machine. The work is being taken up where it was left off a few months ago and a number of new ideas, originating some with Mr. Palmgren and others with Mr. Reed, will be embodied.

Flying a Curtiss machine for several years and having had some experience with other types, Mr. Reed, after an investigation of Mr. Palmgren's invention, says he is satisfied that he is working on the right principle and that none of the other aeroplanes will prove successful for practical purposes. Mr. Reed owns a Curtiss machine and stated that he would bring it to Wilmington in a week or two and give a number of free exhibitions in this vicinity.

Among the persons that have made flights with Mr. Reed are William Jennings Bryan and the late President Madero, of Mexico. Mr. Reed said that he was an instructor in the Curtiss school of instruction and after leaving there last Winter he received a proposition from the Mexican government which he accepted. He was aerial scout, he said, and was given the title of first lieutenant in the Mexican army. It was while serving in this capacity that President Madero made a trip into the air with him. Right after the President was assassinated Mr. Reed said that he along with others was put in prison where he remained for six weeks. When released he lost no time in getting over the border.

Mr Reed expects to conduct an aviation school in connection with his work in Wilmington

RETURNS FROM CONFERENCE.

Mr. Thos. L. Vines Attended Gathering of Customs Collectors.

Mr. Thos. L. Vines, chief deputy collector of customs at this port, returned early yesterday morning from New York and Washington where he attended the gathering of the United States Custom Collectors for the purpose of increasing the efficiency of the work. Mr. Vines told a Star representative that while the meeting was in a way informal, much good will result from it and the service will be much benefitted. The exchange of views between the different officials will permit them to form a policy combining the good points of all and fitting the peculiarities of each individual port. The meeting in New York was adjourned to meet in the office of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo Monday morning, where they were greeted by the President of the United States and heard a pleasing address by Mr. McAdoo, who congratulated them upon the interest being taken in the service. Mr. Vines is confident that a yearly meeting will result in much valuable benefit.

Southern smokers are the best judges of quality in the world. That is why SOVEREIGN sales have jumped to nearly 100,000,000 a month in 18 months—a world's record.

SOVEREIGN is unquestionably the best cigarette of Virginia-North Carolina tobacco ever put on the Southern market.

The tobacco in SOVEREIGN is the finest the Old Belt district grows—selected by the greatest Southern leaf-experts—aged up to three years to insure thorough mellowness.

The paper on SOVEREIGN is the most expensive imported from France. It doesn't smoulder, blacken or "go out" between puffs, but burns evenly, giving you all the fragrance and flavor of the tobacco.

The workmanship on SOVEREIGN is perfect—the product of modern machinery and well-paid labor, in the new, clean SOVEREIGN factory in the heart of the Old Belt district.

SOVEREIGN is the best the American Tobacco Company can produce—and that means the world's best.

NORTH CAROLINA PATRONAGE

Federal Appointees May be Ousted Anyway—Internal Revenue Appointments—After the Peanut Trust—At Capital.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—Within a short time President Wilson will issue an order dismissing District Attorneys Helton and Seawell, and Marshals Dockery and Logan, the four gentlemen having advised the Department of Justice that they would not resign when requested to do so.

That the President will take this action was made public at the Department of Justice this afternoon after the subject had been discussed at the cabinet meeting.

"Quite a number of Southern officials have shown a disposition to neglect their duties since the Wilson administration took up the reigns of the government," said the attorney general. "We are going to make a number of changes especially in the South, and put men in who are in sympathy with the Democratic administration."

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Osborne has approved the recommendations of Collector Watts for the appointment of deputies and other help in his district. The full list as approved by the commissioner follows: James M. Cunningham, Greensboro, chief deputy; Alexander S. Carson, cashier at Statesville; John G. Young, Winston-Salem, assistant stamp deputy; R. O. Self, Webster; E. Carl Robinson, Wadesboro; Edgar S. Coffey, Boone, and Giles T. Crowell, Concord, division deputies. Grover C. Hamrick, Shelby; Edward L. Hedrick, Taylorville; W. Roy Plott, Waynesville; E. Bremen Quinn, Rutherfordton; Richard D. B. Boyer, Morganton; James C. Hunter, Charlotte, and J. H. Aiken, Hickory, for duty with Revenue Agent Vandiford.

James W. Wilson, of Morganton; Allen L. Mills, Statesville; Nixon L. Crawford, Winston-Salem; Jule I. Robinson, Franklin, and Moffatt P. Alexander, Statesville, who have had temporary employment, have been appointed to permanent places as deputy collectors.

The Department of Justice today ordered the district attorneys of North Carolina and Virginia to begin an investigation of the alleged "peanut trusts."

According to information received at the department the trusts are gradually grinding the life out of the business in Eastern Carolina and Virginia. The price paid the farmers for peanuts had gradually gone down while the financial statement of the peanut trust shows that they are making over 200 per cent. profit.

W. D. Warren, of Craven county, is here in the interest of Captain West, of the revenue cutter Pamlico. Captain West was court martialed and his friends consider that he did not get a fair deal.

E. J. Justice, it is now said, will not be sent to San Francisco but will be given one of the other large cases now pending before the Department of Justice.

T. C. White, general passenger agent of the Atlaitic Coast Line, and J. W. Perrin, of the same railroad, both of Wilmington, are here in conference with the members of the Southeastern Passenger Association.

"Business in North and South Carolina is exceptionally good," said Mr. White at the Raleigh tonight. "Cotton and tobacco crops have been very good, and the prices paid for the commodities are far above the average. Consequently we railroad folks have no complaint to register."

Mrs. George P. James and sister left for a visit at Wilmington. George James, passenger agent of the Coast Line here, will visit the State the latter part of the week. P. R. A.

WILSON COTTON SHORT.

Ginnings Not More Than Half of Last Year.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., Nov. 11.—According to the report of Mr. W. W. Wells, county statistician, the cotton ginned in Wilson county this season up to November 1st, amounts to 7,422 bales as against 14,808 bales last season to the same date, a decrease of 50 per cent. The price is above last season, but the farmers are feeling the loss in the crop.

Two negroes, Walter Hinnant and King Saunders, engaged in a dispute Sunday afternoon in the eastern part of town, and Hinnant fired several shots but missed his man. Both negroes left the scene before arrests could be made.

Saturday night another attempt was made to capture Tom Debnam, the negro wanted for the murder of Mr. Ross Flowers. This time the officers went to a negro festival in the neighborhood of Debnam's home, but the negro was not located.

In the Superior Court a damage suit brought against the Hackney Wagon Company by Walter Coker is being heard. Coker asks $3,000 damages for the loss of a finger at one of the sharpener machines in the factory. The accident occurred three years ago.

On last Sunday afternoon Miss Minnie Woodard and Mr. Benjamin Proctor were married at the home of the parents of the bride in Saratoga township, this county.

Mayor Dickenson tried 20 defendants in Mayor's Court yesterday morning, a pretty fair morning's work. The town treasury and the road force both were benefited.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Atkinson, N. C., Nov. 11.—The following evangelistic meeting are set to begin and close on the dates here given, in Wilmington Presbytery:

Rev. H. W. Koelling, at Harmony church, Kerr, N. C., Monday morning, November 17th to 23rd.

REV. E. B. CARR,
Pastor.

Lynchburg, Va., Nov. 10.—O. J. Hunter, manager of the car route department of Morris & Company, Chicago packers, took his life in a hotel here tonight by shooting himself through the head with a revolver. No reason can be learned tonight for the deed. Hunter was here on a brief business trip.

NEW WHITEVILLE BANK.

American National Interests There—Train for Show—Other Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Nov. 11.—Messrs. W. C. Denny, assistant cashier and C. W. Lassiter, of the collection department of the American National Bank, arrived from Wilmington this morning on a hunting trip coupled with business connected with the bank. While here Mr. Denny was authority for the statement that Whiteville will in a very short while have a new banking institution under the wing of the American National. On account of the immense business of the American National here, comparatively speaking, there is no reason why it will not, under capable management, be a successful undertaking.

Messrs. W. T. Aycock, Fred L. Ford and Martin H. Schulken, have chartered a special train which will leave Whiteville Wednesday at 6 o'clock and arrive in Wilmington in time for the curtain to rise in the performance of "The Girl of My Dreams," and returning will leave Wilmington immediately after the show. The generous hearted gentlemen have guaranteed the railroad comparny charges for the train, and Whiteville theatre-goers will have an excellent opportunity to witness one of the best plays to be given this season.

Only one offender faced Judge Koonce of the County Court, at Monday's session. This unfortunate was an ebony-hued gentleman, by name, Jake Washington, who seemed to believe that he would be safer by carrying a pistol along with him during his travels, in view of which Judge Koonce decided that he would be safer with Capt. Martin, superintendent of the county's road crew.

Those from Whiteville who witnessed the performance of "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" in Wilmington Monday night were Misses Sue and Lucy Powell, Mrs. Seth Smith, Miss Jessie Smith, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Crowell, Miss May FormyDuval and Mr. Morrison FormyDuval.

Mr. Luther MacCollum, commercial agent of the A. C. L. Railroad at Augusta, Ga., who has been here on a visit to his mother who has been seriously ill, has returned home, the condition of Mrs. MacCollum having slightly improved.

ENTICING LABORERS.

Interesting Little Incident of Case at Wallace, N .C.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wallace, N. C., Nov. 11.—Mr. J. T. Fentress, representing the Cumberland Lumber Co., of this place, did some clever detective work at Wallace on Sunday. A man representing a Plymouth concern came to the plant of the company and offered inducements to their men to leave their employment and go to Plymouth with him, contrary to a State law which prohibits the hiring of men while working for another concern by entering their premises and offering inducements. Mr. Fentress' suspicions were aroused Saturday morning when he was told that a stranger had been seen on Friday talking with the men at the plant. After investigating the matter he found the man was representing a Plymouth concern and he was trying to induce the men to leave Wallace. He immediately secured a warrant for the arrest of the party and while awaiting developments watched the trains. Seeing some men on Sunday walking towards Teachey's, two miles north of Wallace, he secured the services of Mr. Scott, of Wallace, and took the next train in that direction. When the train reached Teachey's the man from Plymouth boarded the train with seven of the Cumberland Lumber Company's men. He was immediately arrested and together with the men was taken off the train at Rose Hill. Machines were secured and the entire party was taken back to Wallace. Later a compromise was effected and the man was released with a warning which should serve as a moral to all others who may have any idea of enticing laborers from one plant to another.

CROSS-COUNTRY RUN.

Sophomore Milwee Wins Annual Event at A. & M. College.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

West Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 11.—The annual cross-country run at A. & M. College was won Saturday afternoon by T. L. Milwee, of the Sophomore Class, his time being 16 minutes 53 3-4 seconds, which was only eight seconds short of the record time made over the same course last year by F. S. Smith. There were 13 contestants in the race, the first four receiving prizes as follows: First, T. L. Milwee, medal; second, R. P. Harris, suit case; third, V. A. Johnson, sweater, and fourth, D. E. Roberts, Stetson hat. The first prize was given by the Athletic Association and the other three by Raleigh merchants. The course over which the race was held was three miles, starting at the capitol building in Raleigh and extending out Hillsboro street to a point opposite the Textile building at the college and return to the capitol building. The Young Men's Christian Association in Raleigh offered the use of its building to the men for dressing for the event, the building being just across the square from the starting point. A large number of spectators witnessed the event all along the route, and the race was hotly contested, the first four men being less than 50 yards apart on the finish, and the third and fourth men about one foot apart.

Officials: Starter, W. O. Potter; judges, E. B. Nichols and A. J. Phillips; timekeepers, A. C. Reeds and A. A. Farmer; judges of course, R. Crowder and D. H. Hooper.

The Recorder's Court.

The Recorder had a light docket yesterday, and the only cases disposed of were those of Lula Townsend, colored, charged with being drunk and disorderly, and Henry Willis, colored, charged with disorderly conduct. The former had to pay $10 and the costs, and the latter $5 and the costs. A case against Thomas Merrick, colored, charged with a public nuisance, was continued. A case against J. P. Pierce, white, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, was also continued. Both gave bond.

After being on the dry dock for a month, the government steamer Grubbs returned here today with repairs completed. The overhauling was done at Wilmington.

Our idea of a funny situation is that it is it when a diplomat sent on a secret mission takes his wife along just as if he didn't know she would keep up with everything going on. A woman with the key to the situation always knows what to do with the key.

The Columbia Record notes en passant, or words to that effect: "Mary Garden refused to pay for the costume she wears in 'Thais' and is being sued by a costumer." Probably Mary is dissatisfied because her costume doesn't match the atmosphere in which she is mostly clothed.

David said in his wrath, "all men are liars." It should be stated in his behalf that his wrath was justified if he had been listening to the sworn statements made at some political investigation. The circumstances which provoked David to use the short and uglier word probably would make a box-car head newspaper story.

Some of our Georgia exchanges are urging the farmers not to get extravagant because they have made good crops and got good prices. They must think the farmers "can't stand prosperity," but up here in North Carolina they are used to it. What's the use of giving advice to those who can afford to have as good time as an editor?

Unless Gen. Felix Diaz was overtaken while he was "going some", we conclude that the wounds he received in the back of his neck constitute conclusive evidence of the fact that somebody sneaked up on him while he was looking the other way. What he says about it is testimony. The fact that he got it in the back of the neck is evidence.

If there is any chance for Wilmington to get one of Postmaster General Burleson's model postoffices, the Chamber of Commerce and the Wilmington Commercial Club should get behind the proposition at once. Wilmington's pretty postoffice is an ideal one to make a model of, and the Postmaster General would think so, too, if he could see it. We make this suggestion because other cities are right after the Postmaster General.

A LOOK-IN FOR THE PEOPLE.

The people have a right to have a look-in when public business is transacted. It is their business and they have a right to know why and how this or that thing is done or isn't done. Officials are only public servants and while the people's business may be transacted through them as agents of the people, many of them think they are above the people who made them. Some do not seem to be able to understand their obligation to the people and conduct the people's business as if it were that of a close corporation with them at its head.

Some officials are not grounded in the idea of popular government and it is they who act to suit themselves and defy any foreign interference by inquisitive people to whom they are responsible without knowing it. Such seems to be the attitude of Prison Commissioner Tittle, of the Texas penitentiary board. The Houston Chronicle is after him for refusing to make public the people's business.

The Chronicle is on its ear because the commissioner, who is in charge of the State penitentiary, refuses to disclose two sugar deals which he has made. The Texas prison farms have produced several million pounds of raw sugar this season and Commissioner Tittle claims to have sold 3,000,000 pounds and to have entered into negotiations for another 3,000,000 pounds at a later date. He refuses to state the price or divulge the name of the purchaser, although it is public business and ought to be free and above board.

An official's responsibilities are greater than some of them suppose, and the Texas official is one of them. He now finds out that by doing business for the public and refusing to let the public know about it, he is suspected and practically accused of making a secret deal with the Sugar Trust contrary to the interests of the Imperial Sugar Company, an independent Texas company which wanted the sugar and needed it in its business. Mayhaps the deal also was against the public interests, too. The official also is raked over the coals for selling the State's sugar at a time when the prospects indicate a higher price to come.

Of course, this is none of North Carolina's business, but the official incident is applicable to North Carolina and every other State where public servants think they are a law unto themselves. Private deals by public officials cause a credulous public to think something is wrong. Open methods on the part of public officials are demanded by the public these days, and the official who ignores the public has himself to blame if he is mistrusted. Bids should have been invited for the State's sugar crop, so the officials would not have a chance to make a deal on their own hook and so the State could be protected. Officials should be careful about that so they can be on the safe side themselves.

THE NEGLIGIBLE CITIZENS.

The boosters of Deland, Florida, seem to have set a new pace for impressing upon the citizens of the town the importance of their presence at meetings of the Board of Trade to work for the progress of the town and the public welfare. The absentees cause so much disappointment by their absence that a Deland paper which reports the proceedings publishes a list of prominent men who fail to attend instead of a list of those in attendance. In this way the public finds out the names of those who are conspicuous by their absence. It just shows the absentees how painful it is to have a meeting to try to do something for the town when so many good men leave it to them to shoulder the burden.

The biggest drawback a town has is because such a large portion of its citizens are indifferent. Commercial organizations get the dry rot because so few of its members attend the meetings and do their duty by the organization and their town. There is a desire on the part of some to work for the town but they can do nothing without the co-operation of every citizen, who should be as much or more concerned in its welfare as are the few who try to keep an organization going.

The plain truth about it is that a minority of live workers realize that their hardest struggle for existence as an organization is on account of the dead ducks of their town. What's the use of being a dead duck when the live ones are in a flutter over the prospects for developing the town? About the hardest thing in the world for a small bunch of workers to do is to get enthusiastic, but it is easy to get on a full head of steam when there is an overflowing attendance.

No organization can do much for a town if its citizens let it dwindle away for lack of co-operation and support. Recently we heard a well-meaning citizen criticise a local organization for doing nothing for Wilmington. He wasn't a member, and as he wasn't doing even as much as any member of the organization of which he complained, he was giving himself away when he indulged in criticism. He and others just like him are to blame for the fact that a great big organization is not doing big things for its city. All the men of the town have got to get some ginger in them if it is to be a live town.

GREAT NAVAL BASE AT NORFOLK.

We can rejoice with the Portsmouth Star that a board of naval officers headed by Rear Admiral Doyle, commander of the Norfolk navy yard, has just made a report to Secretary Josephus Daniels, of the Navy Department, recommending the creation of the greatest navy yard and shipping dock facilities in the world at the present Norfolk yard on the Portsmouth side of the Elizabeth river. Our esteemed Portsmouth contemporary states that the proposed plan is to enlarge the yard four times its present area and make it the most thoroughly equipped naval base in existence.

The plans submitted by the board call for an expenditure of $15,000,000. They include three new dry docks to accommodate a whole division of the fleet at once, and berthing space for practically the entire Atlantic fleet of battleships. It also includes a group of mammoth machine shops and other manufacturing plants to turn out ships and equip them from stern to stern. There is to be a seawall inside of which there will be anchorage and berthing for dreadnaughts of the Pennsylvania class of ships. The yard is to be equipped for building and repairing the biggest ships of the navy, and there is to be a storage depot for coal and ammunition so the navy can be independent of strikes, car shortages and other calamities. If the report is adopted, as it seems likely, it will add 10,000 men to the force employed in the Norfolk yard.

Geographically, Norfolk is just the place for such a great navy yard, and as it is in the South we are glad to note that this portion of the country has such great port advantages as the navy may use to the best purpose.

JEFF DAVIS IN WILMINGTON.

On the 5th of November, fifty years ago, President Jefferson Davis, of the Confederate States of America, was in Wilmington and delivered an address. It was in November, 1863, and the Richmond Times-Dispatch, in its reprint of "What Was News Fifty Years Ago" reproduces this item from that newspaper of November 10th, 1863:

"On November 5th President Davis, addressing the citizens of Wilmington, said: 'In every field from Great Bethel, the first, to Chickamauga, the last, the blood of North Carolinians has been shed and their valor illustrated, and, if she has fewer trumpeters than others to sound her fame, the list of killed and wounded from every battlefield attests her devotion and bears witness to her sacrifices. North Carolina might well be proud of her soldiers in the armies of the Confederacy'."

That was a high tribute from a great man in the very midst of the Civil War, when there was two more years of fighting to be done. North Carolina did not appear to be blowing her trumpet then, but it is different today. North Carolina is doing as much of it as any of them, and she has the best of reasons for doing it.

CURRENT COMMENT.

A woman can do more crying and good-bying over a ten-mile journey than a man can over going to Europe.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

With the rush beginning over three weeks before the usual time, cotton shipped from Norfolk to Providence and other New England ports has over-taxed the capacity of vessels and caused extra vessels to be utilized. Is Wilmington getting her share of this particular trade?—Charlotte Observer.

Mr. W. C. Smart, of Route 2, was in town Saturday. Mr. Smart says he raised 287 bushels of corn this year on two and a half acres of land. He set his subscription forward two more years and says that if a man can raise corn that way he can afford to keep his subscription paid in advance.—Franklin Press.

The United Missionary Campaign that begins in Charlotte tomorrow is not a whipped cream sort of an affair. Men with red blood in their veins are involved in it and it is for the strong and virile type of manhood that believes in the incorporation of some business in church methods and church activities.—Charlotte Chronicle.

The stock law territory in North Carolina is growing steadily larger. The Legislature, in extra session, gave it to several counties. It authorized elections in other counties. The most progressive sentiment is decidedly in favor of the law. It means both better stock and better farming.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Almost every day sees hundreds of Haywood cattle leave for the markets of the country and anyone can readily see that this industry means much to the welfare of our farmers. The cattle business will some day make this the best county in the State for farmers, and if they use proper judgment in raising good stock, caring for them well and refusing to kill the heifers, the money will come their way.—Canton (N. C.) Observer.

Small Revolver Adorns Councilmanic Table at Mayor's Place.

Persons attending the several meetings of the Council held during the past few days and others visiting the Mayor's office during that period have noticed with no little interest a small revolver, loaded, which adorns the Councilmanic table at Mayor Moore's place. The first thought of some who know of the occasional strained relations existing between the Mayor and some of the members of Council, was that the pretty little weapon was procured in order to keep peace in the ranks. It is not a very dangerous looking weapon, however, and some of the visitors who have a little more curiosity than others made further inquiry relative to the presence of the revolver. To those who sought information it was explained that the pistol was one of the two taken from a small boy who was possessed with the idea that he was a "bold, bad man" some days ago.

Basketball Last Night.

There were two games of basketball at the Boys' Brigade last night between teams of the Tuesday Night League. The Company B Juniors defeated the Giants by a score of 28 to 35. This is the second time the Juniors have won from the Giants in this series. The Cubs won from the Athletics by a score of 30 to 20.

CAMPAIGN FOR CONVENTIONS.

Commercial Club Will Send Out Invitations to Many Organizations.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Commercial Club, held in its offices in the Masonic Temple yesterday afternoon, it was decided to have the secretary begin an active campaign with a view to getting as many conventions as possible to meet in Wilmington next Summer. He was instructed to write letters to all organizations where there is any likelihood of their coming here, urging them to avail themselves of the superior advantages offered by Wilmington as a convention city.

The matter of securing a competent man to act as a city builder was discussed, but no definite action was taken.

Plans for offering inducements to the Philadelphia National Baseball Club to establish their Spring camp in Wilmington were also outlined. The matter will be laid fully before the citizens of Wilmington at a mass meeting to be held in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce Friday night at 8 o'clock. It was pointed out that this would advertise Wilmington as nothing else could, as a Winter resort for tourists. The advertising that Wilmington will receive on account of their coming here was also discussed.

President Evans was asked to confer with Mayor Moore this morning with reference to entertaining the Trade Expansion committee from Philadelphia, that will visit Wilmington next week. The desire was expressed that the Commercial Club co-operate with the other organizations of the city and the citizens generally with the idea of being able to show the Philadelphians the many resources of Wilmington to the best advantage, and also to entertain them in royal style while they are here.

The report of Mr. H. T. Bauman, assistant secretary, of new members enrolled, was made, and showed that splendid progress has been made in interesting the business men of Wilmington in the work of the club. The members are paying up their dues promptly, and the outlook for the future is most encouraging.

The Southern Express Company Will Transport Them Free of Charge.

The Southern Express Company has granted free carriage for Red Cross Christmas Seals to all parts of the State of North Carolina. This is a special concession to the Red Cross Seal Committee of the State, but the same favor has been granted some other States. This is not only a contribution of several hundred dollars to the anti-tuberculosis work of these States, but is also a recognition on the part of the Express Company of the value of the sale of the Red Cross Christmas Stamps in arousing sentiment that will help eradicate this disease, which destroys 6,000 lives in North Carolina every year.

The Southern Express Company is always wide awake to the best commercial interests of its territory. It probably realizes the enormous economic value of the fight against tuberculosis. Tvery untimely death is estimated to be an economic loss of $5,000 to the State or community. At this rate tuberculosis costs the State $30,000,000. To combat with this disease; the State is spending a mere pittance. The Red Cross Seal Committee hopes to raise $10,000 this year by selling 1,000,000 Red Cross Seals. These seals or stamps are used as decorative stickers on letters and packages during several weeks before Christmas. They will be sold in nearly every section of the State and can be secured of the Red Cross Seal Committee at Charlotte.

The action of the Express Company as indicated above will help a great deal in distributing the seals and literature.

Illustrated Lecture Tonight.

At the Brooklyn Baptist church tonight at 8 o'clock instead of the regular weekly prayer meeting service there will be an illustrated lecture on the "Great White Plague." The slides are furnished by the State Board of Health, and will be explained by Dr. B. J. Willingham. It will be along practical lines, and among other things it will be shown how the ordinary house fly spreads disease. The public is cordially invited to attend the lecture.

MURDER TRIAL BEGINS TODAY

Thomas Dupree, Colored, to Answer for Killing George Nixon—Several Cases Were Disposed of Yesterday.

The trial of Thomas Dupree, colored, charged with the murder of George Nixon, also colored, October 6th, will begin in Superior Court this morning. A venire of 50 men has been drawn from which to select the jury. Dupree, it will be recalled, made a hurried departure after shooting Nixon and was arrested a few days later at Sanford and brought back here for trial.

He admitted shooting Nixon and when arraigned Monday he said, "yes, I shot him, in reply to the usual question of "Are you guilty or not guilty." "Yes, but Your Honor he pleads self-defense," promptly interposed L. Clayton Grant, Esq., who appears for the defendant.

Will Berry and Hattie Bluford, colored, charged with perjury in that they gave false testimony before the coroner's jury in the Dupree case, entered a plea of guilty yesterday, but judgment has not yet been pronounced and probably will not be until after the case against Dupree is disposed of. The Bluford woman did not enter a plea of guilty until after the testimony had been heard.

Martha Tindall was found not guilty of slander of Miss Daisy Anderson. The following paper was filed in connection with the judgment in this case: "The defendant, Martha Tindall, states in open court that she has never made any statement derogatory of the virtue of Miss Anderson and has said nothing affecting her virtue, and she denies the allegation in the bill of indictment that she has. To which Miss Anderson asks that a verdict of not guilty be entered against the said Mrs. Tindall".

A case against Walter Bell, charged with assault with deadly weapon, was not prossed with leave. Sam Reaves, charged with larceny, was called and failed; judgment nisi sci fa and capias. Sam Davis, a witness in a case against Carrie James for violating the prohibition law, was called and failed and was fined $80 and costs. The judgment was later stricken out as it was shown to the satisfaction of the court that it was case other than the one on trial in which he was a witness.

Priscilla Foy, a colored woman, was found guilty of running a gambling house. Judgment has not been pronounced.

The grand jury returned a true bill against Walter Thomas, colored, charged with the murder of Tim Allen, also colored, on Middle Sound last week. Thomas is still at large.

Jim Brown, colored, was tried on a charge of storebreaking, it being alleged that he was one of a trio that broke into the store of Ben Cottle, at Eighth and Castle streets, some months ago. Bill Conner and Geo. McKoy are now doing time for this offense. The jury evidently thought Brown guilty also but that the State had not proven it for the foreman in returning the verdict said, "Not guilty according to the evidence."

Joe Mason and Barney Lear, young white men, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of conspiracy to escape from the convict camp in East Wilmington July 27th, last. Wm. J. Bellamy, Esq., appeared for the defendants, both of whom have pretty bad records. Judge Rountree was inclined to give the young men another chance. Both manifested a desire to turn over a new leaf and to become good citizens when they get their freedom again. Mason has been in trouble many times and is now serving a 12 months' sentence on the roads. His term will expire in January. Lear, who had been a dope fiend for the past 10 years, was arrested over a year ago for larceny, tried and convicted and sentenced from the Recorder's court to four years on the roads. There were 18 separate cases against him. Officers found in his possession books, clothing, jewelry, etc., in large quantities which Lear had stolen. Lear told Judge Rountree yesterday that he was given morphine in small quantities after being sent to the convict camp up until about six months ago when Dr. Thames began visiting the camp. He stated that Dr. Thames took him off the drug and that in this way he was cured. He told the court that he was under the influence of the drug on the night of July 27th when he and Mason tried to overpower the guard and make their escape.

After giving the young men a most helpful talk, Judge Rountree said that the only punishment he would impose would be that the defendants be not allowed the time that is usually given for good behavior, which is five days a month.

Will Williams, an aged white man, charged with embezzlement of $4.50 was allowed to plead guilty to forcible trespass, and judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs, the defendant being released upon his own recognizance in the sum of $15,000 for the payment of the amount within six months. Williams was sent to collect a bill of $4.50 for his employer. He got the money and also got drunk. The result was that he was indicted for embezzlement. Judge Rountree asked the defendant if he could pay a fine and the reply was that he could not as he had not had any work to do in three weeks.

"Well, what is the reason?" asked Judge Rountree.

"One reason, if Your Honor please, I was locked up in jail."

Judge Rountree admitted that he couldn't well have a better reason and made it as easy as he could for the old man. But one of the conditions of the suspended judgment was that Williams not get drunk again and he readily agreed to the proposition.

Commercial Club Office.

The temporary office of the Wilmington Commercial Club in the Masonic Temple, Room No. 2, is being rapidly equipped for business. Yesterday a telephone was installed and the number is 828-J. Mr. H. T. Bauman, the assistant secretary, will be in the office most of the time. He suggests that the telephone might be freely used by those who have suggestions to make for the good of the city and have other business with the club that may be transacted by telephone.

BOARD OF HEALTH

Regular Meeting Last Night Featured by Reports for October—Campaign Planned Against Mosquitoes.

The County Board of Health was in regular monthly session for two hours at the Court House last night with Mayor Moore presiding in the absence of Chairman Willard and in attendance were Dr. J. B. Cranmer and Prof. Washington Catlett, members of the board; Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, superintendent; Dr. John Thames, assistant superintendent and clerk, and Dr. Thos. B. Carroll, meat and dairy inspector.

The meeting was featured by the reading of the reports from the several departments of the work for October. The report of Dr. John Thames showed that he had been especially active during the month and his report was accepted with the thanks of the board.

Of much interest was an oral report by Dr. Nesbitt of plans that have been made for a campaign for stamping out malaria in this vicinity. The work is undertaken in conjunction with the State Board of Health and with the co-operation of the United States government, represented by Dr. Stiles. Dr. Nesbitt stated that he had assigned Chief Sanitary Officer Pate to work of seeing that all water pools are filled or drained and that lots are filled to the street level so that by next Summer there will be no breeding places for mosquitoes. In addition to this work arrangements have been made, he said, with Mr. John J. Blair, superintendent of schools, whereby a series of lectures will be given in the schools between now and Christmas. These lectures will be given by Dr. Stiles. It was stated by Dr. Nesbitt that Dr. Stiles will go to California for a short trip on official business right after the holidays and upon his return, he would be glad to give further aid in the campaign. Dr. Stiles, it was stated, would be glad to give lectures in the rural districts as well as in the city. Members of the board were very much gratified to learn of the plans for exterminating the mosquito.

There was no action or comment on the communication from the City Council with regard to the health budget, it being understood that the Commissioners and Councilmen expect to meet in conference within a few days to consider this matter.

Dr. Carroll made a statement with reference to the examination of cattle for tubercular germs. He suggested that the State Department of Agriculture be asked to send a man here for the purpose. The services of the State's expert is given free. These tubercular tests are made frequently. The board adopted the suggestion of Dr. Carroll.

Report of Auditor.

The books of the health department have been audited by Mr. Albert H. Marsh, auditor and accountant, and report of his work was submitted to the board last night. The audit covers the period from June 1st to October 31st, 1913. He submits statements showing receipts and disbursements for that period. Dr. Thames stated for the information of the board that $90 of the amount on hand October 31st had been expended since that time, leaving $164 in the treasury at this time. He also reminded the board that Saturday is semi-monthly pay day and that $260 will be needed to meet it. The amount paid Mr. Marsh for the audit is $36.

Departmental Reports.

Dr. Thames made the following report for the month of October:

Public Schools.

"In accordance with the duties prescribed in Section 11, of the Public Health Laws of North Carolina, I have endeavored to carry out as far as possible, the instructions laid down. I have performed the duties outlined in the plan of organization combining

FEDERAL COURT CONVENES

Regular Fall Term Opened Yesterday With Judge H. G. Connor Presiding—Criminal Cases Now Being Tried.

With Judge H. G. Connor, of Wilson, presiding, and District Attorney H. F. Seawell, of Carthage, prosecuting for the government, the Fall term of United States Court convened in the court room in the Postoffice Building yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. Present also are Marshal Claudius Dockery, of Raleigh, and Clerk S. P. Collier, of this city, and a large number of witnesses.

The court will first dispose of the criminal docket which is a small one, and will be disposed of by Friday. The charge to the grand jury was made yesterday by Judge Connor, and they are now engaged in passing upon the bills of indictments drawn by the District Attorney.

The grand jury was drawn as follows: Messrs. John McGregerson, foreman; R. L. Sikes, A. K. Currie, L. L. Hines, I. A. Atkinson, L. Watters, C. C. Vann, W. M. Cox, J. M. Faircloth, D. W. Bullock, A. T. Keesar, C. O. McNair, J. K. Colvin, R. Burbank, H. G. Blanchard, S. L. Parker and W. A. McDonald.

Judge Connor's charge to the grand jury was brief but comprehensive, the general nature of the jurisdiction of the Federal Court being outlined clearly and succinctly. It is the policy of the general government, he said, to delegate as much as possible of the local administration of the laws to the State government. The United States Courts seek only to enforce those laws which Congress has made and these deal principally with the administration of the Federal government and not of the State.

The principal matters coming before them, he stated, would have to do with the violations of the internal revenue act, counterfeiting and the administration of postoffice affairs. The first topic discussed by Judge Connor was the sale and manufacture of intoxicating liquors.

He charged them that while the State law makes it a misdemeanor to manufacture or sell whiskey in any quantity they would have only to take into consideration cases where the Federal tax had not been paid. It is unlawful not only to set up a still without license, but to aid and abet in setting up one. For instance, were one knowingly to furnish the ground on which a still was set up he would be guilty of a violation of the law. Again, if he should knowingly furnish the material out of which whiskey or rum is manufactured he would also be guilty of violating the law.

Under the State law it is a grave offense to manufacture intoxicants at all, and the public sentiment has crystalized to such an extent that this law is enforced rigidly, he said. In this country, the judge said, the will of the majority is the law of the whole people, and must be obeyed by all. While changes in the law may be discussed, so long as the statutes remain on the books they must be obeyed.

Judge Connor emphasized the important relation which the jury sustained towards the court. The courts have no eyes to see violations of the law and no hands to enforce the law except through the grand jury, he said. He discussed briefly the ancient origin of the grand jury, and showed how it has become one of the most firmly fixed institutions of our land.

Under the constitution the Federal government has exclusive jurisdiction over the postoffices of the country, and Congress has passed laws for the administration of its affairs, he continued. Unfortunately there are many who instead of using it for wise and beneficent purposes seek to abuse the rights given to them by sending through the mails poisonous drugs or other mail matter the object of which is to defraud or deceive. Again there are others who send obscene literature through the mails. Any violation of the law of this kind would come before the Federal courts for redress.

The judge showed the important position which the postoffices of the land occupy, and said that there was no other department of the government which came so closely to the people. The army and the navy departments are important, but they have little to do with the welfare of the vast majority of our citizens. But there is no family even in the remotest rural district that is not effected either directly or indirectly by the postoffice.

Judge Connor then discussed several of the offenses against the law which come under this head, among them being interfering with any person in the delivery of the mail, tearing down mail baxes, breaking into letters and robbing postoffices.

Counterfeiting, Judge Connor continued, was not common at the present time, but is one of the grave offenses under the Federal law. In olden times it was customary to punish those guilty of counterfeiting with death. He charged the jury that if any of these cases which he briefly discussed was known to them that it would be their duty to make diligent inquiry into the circumstances. He then instructed them how to pass upon bills of indictment presented to them by the District Attorney, stating that he deemed it unnecessary to go into an exhaustive discussion of the various criminal offenses under the Federal law as they were familiar to practically every member of the jury.

Following the charge to the grand jury the naturalizing of a number of citizens was taken up. Those who took the oath of allegiance, having been in America the required period of five years, were: Eelco Idzord Tingu, Castle Haynes; Theolozos Konstantine Mavranicholas, Wilmington; John Francis Powell, Wilmington; Charles Kreusels, Saint Helena. Two application were held over to the Spring term of court on account of absence of witnesses to establish required residence of five years, these being George Logothale, Wilmington, and Anton Moler, Fort Caswell.

Mr. O. T. Moore, of Washington, D. C., chief naturalization examiner for the South, was present to make the examinations. He left last night far Washington.

There was only one trial by the jury yesterday this being that of William Hill, colored, charged with illicit distilling. The trial of this case took up practically the entire afternoon and conclusion of the argument of counsel and the charge of the judge court was adjourned until this morning. The jury returned a verdict last night finding him guilty of aiding and abetting in illicit distilling.

The local branch of Armour & Co., was found guilty of a violation of the pure food act by shipping meat that was alleged to be infected with skippers, and a fine of $100 was ordered to be paid by the defendant.

—License was issued yesterday for the marriage of Mr George C. Decker, of Staten Island, and Miss Inez B. Turner, daughter of Mr and Mrs. John Robert Turner, of Wilmington

AUSPICIOUS OPENING OF FAIR

Hundreds of People Visited New Hanover Corn Show and Fine Arts and Industrial Exhibit Yesterday—Programme.

With the weather ideal the New Hanover Corn Show and Fine Arts and Industrial Exhibit opened yesterday with the most splendid array of agricultural products and industrial exhibits that have been seen in this vicinity in a long time. The opening exercises began at 11:30 o'clock in the old Southern Express building on Chesnut street, where the fair is being held, with address by Mayor Parker Quince Moore and by Messrs. L. B. Sasser, George H. Hutaff and J. P. Herring, who compose the committee in charge of the general arrangements.

Great crowds of people thronged the building all the afternoon and night, and a conservative estimate of the number places it at 2,000 or more. While the people had reason to expect a magnificent display of interesting and instructive exhibits of all kinds the exhibition far exceeded the expectations of the most optimistic. Several who had visited the State Fair at Raleigh and at Columbia stated that the display of corn by members of the Boys' Corn Clubs and the fancy work under the supervision of North Carolina Sorosis excelled the exhibits of this nature at these fairs. The expressions of approval were unanimous on the part of all. It was a revelation to many who did not know that the soil of this section could produce such splendid products.

Decorated with flags together with flowers, shrubs and evergreens the building is filled to overflowing with exhibits of many kinds. Downstairs there is the Pure Food Store, the corn and agricultural exhibits, and the "Made in Wilmington" collection of manufactured articles. Upstairs there is the Fine Arts and Industrial Exhibit given under the auspices of North Carolina Sorosis. To say which excels in interest is impossible, but all are interesting and highly instructive

Opening Exercises.

Mr. L. B. Sasser, the chairman of the committee on arrangements, opened the exercises yesterday morning with a short address. He stated that during the past year he had visited many of the farms in New Hanover, and told how he had become interested in the success of the corn growing interests and in the development of the agricultural resources of the county. He thought that great progress had been made when a farmer as one did this year could make a profit of $569 a year on one acre of land.

Mr. George H. Hutaff introduced Mayor Moore, and incidentally touched on the great awakening that is taking place along agricultural lines. He was glad to see the beginning of a new day for this section. When corn can be produced for 25 cents a bushel there certainly is money in it for somebody, he said.

Mayor Moore in his short address spoke of the great pleasure he felt in welcoming the corn growers of New Hanover and other counties to the city, stating that it afforded him the highest joy of his life. He pictured this section in glowing terms as the garden spot of the world. He praised the work that Sorosis is doing, and stated that while many decried the woman's clubs because they kept the women away from the home this was not true of Sorosis for they were teaching the children to care for the home by encouraging them along these lines. He congratulated in warm words the committee on arrangements for their success in getting up the splendid exhibition.

Following Mayor Moore Mr. J. P. Herring said that he did not wish to claim any of the credit for the success of the fair, and he thought that all who had contributed in any way to getting it up was due as much praise as he. It has been demonstrated conclusively, he said in conclusion, that we can grow corn cheaper than we can buy it, and that the farmer who grows his supplies at home will never be sold out.

Mr. F. A. Brown, who has charge of the Carolina Trucking Development Company's farming interests, made a practical talk on corn growing and the raising of fall potatoes. He stated that when he came to New Hanover a few years ago that no one thought of growing Fall Irish potatoes, but the fact that we have passed beyond this was amply shown by the large variety of potatoes on exhibit.

Pure Food Store.

The Pure Food Store Exhibit is located near the door of the building as one enters, and is in charge of Mrs. W. E. Etheridge, assisted by a number of ladies. Here one finds pure foods of all kinds donated by the manufacturers and local firms. All of these have been examined and passed upon by competent authorities as being foods that are absolutely pure and wholesome. Every variety of food is attractively and neatly displayed, and the trade here throughout the day was lively indeed. Its primary object, however, is educational, and it furnishes a striking object lesson to those interested in the subject of good foods.

Here coffee is served that is made in the latest and most approved style, and its wholesomeness and good taste demonstrates the good results to be attained by the use of proper methods of preparing foods. Those who want pure country butter can get it at a low price. The other things are sold at less than it costs to manufacture them.

Opposite the Pure Food Store is the soft drink stand where one can buy a Coca-Cola and receive a souvenir. It may be a lead pencil, a clock or a purse. Anyway, one is sure to get his money's worth, and this did a large business yesterday.

The Corn Show.

On the first floor also is the corn and agricultural exhibit in charge of Mr. J. P. Herring, county farm demonstrator. Here there are potatoes of all kinds, both Irish and sweet, peanuts, collards, parsnips, cauliflower, lettuce, turnips, alfalfa, peppers and last, but by no means least, corn of all kinds. Those who have visited several of the fairs this Fall state that the corn exhibit is the best that they have seen.

Lee Gee, of East Wilmington, has an interesting exhibit of Chinese vegetables, these including the Chinese cabbage, Chinese turnip and the Chinese squash. Included in this exhibit is a New Hanover product of a different kind, this being a rattlesnake skin which is seven feet, two inches in length, and one of the largest ever killed in this section of the State. Geo. H. Hutaff, Jr., also has an interesting exhibit of the different kinds of fish that can be caught with hook and line in waters around Wilmington. The Holland and Audubon nurseries have a large display of shrubs, flowers and small trees in this section.

In the rear is the "Made in Wilmington" display in charge of Miss Julia Parsley. The Natural Wood Products have on exhibition the various products manufactured by them which is gotten up in attractive style. Samples of Astyptodyne are given out by a young lady. Shepard's fly and mosquito driver, an old favorite with many, is on display. The Carolina Metal Products Co., show in a striking manner the various articles manufactured by them. The Delgado mills exhibit the different cloths manufactured in their mills.

To the right of this exhibit is the private dining room in charge of Mrs. L. D. Potter. Here one can get oysters and luncheon at all hours during the day.

Upstairs in a large room is the Fine Arts and Industrial Exhibits of North Carolina Sorosis. Attractively decorated with flowers and art work it presents a pretty scene and was visited by hundreds of people yesterday.

The Boys' and Girls' Exhibit in charge of Mrs. John Thames, was the subject of much favorable comment. Here there are dresses made by young girls, two fireless cookers, a shoe polishing device and a unique chair made from a small barrel, all of which have been built by young boys. A swing which was made by a young man who has never had any manual training and which was made from scraps of hardwood is especially worthy of mention.

The Domestic Science Department is in charge of Mrs. B. T. Hopkins and contains exhibits of pickles, jellies, cakes, breads, rolls, butter and other objects too numerous to mention. The division of pickles and preserves is in charge of Mrs. J. H. Stone and the division of cakes, breads and other eatables is in charge of Mrs. C. H. Fore.

The Art Department is in charge of Mrs. W. A. French and includes many beautiful paintings in water colors and in oils. There is fancy work including crocheting and embroidery of many descriptions and a profusion of pretty things that are interesting to lovers of the artistic.

Individual Displays.

The flower exhibit of Mr. Will Rehder contains flowers of many kinds and is indeed a beautiful display. Miss Lucy B. Moore has a variety of baskets attractively decorated with flowers.

The Pepsi-Cola people have a soft drink stand that furnishes refreshments of all kinds. They had a liberal patronage yesterday. They have generously donated all the profits to Sorosis.

The Tidewater Power Company has a large display of all kinds of electrical and gas appliances including cooking apparatus, vacuum cleaners, ironing devices and many other labor-saving conveniences. A box arrangement for showing the effectiveness of the Tungsten Mazda light as compared with the ordinary electric light of the same power also forms an interesting part of the exhibit.

While the babies were not on exhibition yesterday those who won the prizes in the recent examinations will be at the building today.

In the hall upstairs Mr. H. E. Bonitz has an extensive display of drawings of school and church buildings as well as other structures that he has designed that is exceedingly interesting. Within the last 10 years he has designed and supervised the construction of over 100 churches and school buildings in North Carolina and South Carolina. He has planned and now has under process of construction seven school buildings.

Programme for Today.

Today is Educational Day, and all the school children of the county will have a holiday, and together with their teachers are expected to be here to hear the splendid addresses which will be given in the Academy of Music and also to see the exhibits. Their parents are also expected to be present in large numbers.

The exercises at the Opera House will begin this morning at 10:30 o'clock with an address on the Girls' Canning Club work by Mrs. Jane S. McKimmon, of Raleigh, director of this work in this State, who will be introduced by Mrs. B. T. Hopkins, chairman of the Household Economics Department of Sorosis. Mrs. McKimmon's address will be along practical lines, and will be full of interest to all.

Dr. J. Y. Joyner, State superintendent of public instruction, will speak at 11 o'clock. This is his first visit to Wilmington in several years, and he will receive a warm welcome from his many friends here. He will speak especially to those interested in edu-

Every Home Needs This Great Remedy

No Home Can Afford to be Without a Mild, Reliable Laxative-Tonic.

MRS. M. F. SMITH.

No well regulated home should be without a laxative, for there is scarcely a day in a family of several persons that someone doesn't complain of a headache, of sleeplessness, or show the first signs of a cold.

A laxative then becomes a necessity or what was a trifling congestion at the beginning may run into a serious cold or fever. No harsh remedy is needed, but simply a mild laxative-tonic that will make the liver active and stir up the bowels. People who have tried a great many things, and are themselves heads of families, who have seen the little ills run to big ones, will tell you that there is nothing better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which you can obtain at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar a bottle, the latter being the family size.

Among the great believers in Syrup Pepsin for constipation in old or young, and as a general household emergency remedy, is Mrs. M. E. Smith, 710 N. Cherry St., San Antonio, Tex. To use her own words, she says she will bless Dr. Caldwell to her dying day for she believes that through his remedy, Syrup Pepsin, she found the way to permanent good health.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is scientifically compounded and its purity is vouched for. Mothers give it to tiny babies, and grown people, taking a little larger amount, find it equally effective. It is mild and gentle, pleasant-tasting and free from griping.

It does not hide behind a high sounding name and is absolutely free from any prohibited ingredient. Families who once use Syrup Pepsin forever after avoid cathartics, salts, pills and other harsh medicines, for these only do temporary good, are nauseous and a shock to any delicate system. Such things should never be given to children.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

MISS HALLIE C. POWERS BRIDE OF MR. ARRINGTON.

Wake Forest, N. C., Nov. 7.—The wedding in Memorial Chapel last Wednesday night of Miss Hallie C. Powers to Mr. Thomas M. Arrington was a brilliant affair and will long be remembered by the host of friends of the bride and groom who were in attendance.

The bride, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Powers, of Wake Forest, has been a leader in her social circle since her debut, and is loved by all who know her for her attractiveness. The groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Arrington, of Rocky Mount, is a young man of sterling qualities, holding a responsible position with the Southern Express Company in his home town.

The following close friends and relatives of the bride and groom constituted the bridal party: Mrs. Fannie Powers Dodd, sister of the bride, matron of honor; Mr. A. A. Arrington, of Raleigh, best man; Miss Florida Avera, of Rocky Mount and Mr. Edwin Josey of Tarboro; Miss Anna Kitchin, of Scotland Neck, and Mr. Dick Bunn, of Rocky Mount; Miss Louise Williams, of Wake Forest, and Mr. Wade Brewer, of Wake Forest; Miss Anne Lu Fender, of Valdosta, Ga., and Mr. Jack Riddick, of Scotland Neck; Miss Mary Caddell, of Wake Forest, and Mr. Tom Avera, of Rocky Mount; Miss Elizabeth Brewer, of Bowman, Ga., and Mr. William Royall, of Wake Forest; Miss Sallie May Josey, of Scotland Neck and Mr. H. C. Wood, of Philadelphia, Pa.; Miss Pearl Stevens, of Elizabeth City and Mr. Hubert Jones, of Wake Forest. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. L. Bruce Powers, of Wake Forest. The out-of-town guests other than of the bridal party were: Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Arrington, of Rocky Mount, parents of the groom; Mr. Sam Arrington, of Rocky Mount, brother of the groom; Mrs. J. P. Arrington, Miss Mary Arrington, Miss Maude Arrington, of Raleigh; Mrs. R. W. Boney, Hamlet; Mrs. C. A. Jones, Scotland Neck; Miss Annie Lewis Brewer, Newport News, Va.; Miss Sallie Shaw, Kinston.

The bride was attractively gowned in real lace over duchess satin, and carried an exquisite bouquette of lilies of the valley, bride's roses and peonies. The matron of honor wore a gown of white chiffon crepe with overdress of satin meteor, old lace and pearls. The maids of honor were dressed in satin meteor, carrying out a most artistic color scheme of green and white; their bouquettes were huge bunches of white chrysanthemums.

The decorations were in charge of Mrs. B. F. Sledd, and were beautiful for their simplicity.

The music, under the direction of Dr. Hubert M. Poteat at the organ, deserves special mention. A choir of a score of trained voices sweetly rendered the bridal chorus from Lohengrin as the bridal party entered.

Dr. J. W. Lynch, of Athens, Ga., assisted by Rev. W. N. Johnson, of Wake Forest, officiated.

A reception to a limited number of invited guests at the home of the bride's parents after the wedding, was a fitting climax to so beautiful an event.

Morse and Capt. M. L. Gilbert, of New York. All the stock that Wilmington shippers were asked to take has been sold, and everything is now in readiness for putting on the line of steamers.

The three steamers are now at Bath, Me., and as soon as they can be repaired will be placed in active service. It is expected that one of these can be gotten in shape within the next month. Capt. M. It will be necessary to make some repairs to the dock and warehouse, and this will be taken up at once. A local agent will be placed in charge to look after shipments as soon as the steamers are placed in service.

A committee will go to Charlotte within the next day or so to confer with shippers in regard to having their freight come tarough Wilmington. It is planned to take up with other interior cities and towns the matter of having their freight from Northern points shipped by water to Wilmington. An aggressive campaign to this end will be inaugurated at once.

COUNTY BOARD OF HEALTH

the city and county health boards. Have also put into effect the regulation of the County Board of Health requiring the vaccination of teachers and school children within the county of New Hanover. I herewith beg leave to submit the following report:

"I have, during the month of October, visited every white school within the county except one, located three miles below Carolina Beach, and about one-half of the colored schools. I find that there has been no attempt made to improve the unsanitary conditions. None of the recommendations made by the county health officer have been carried out. The following schools have deep pumps and the water shows no pollution: Castle Haynes, Wrightsboro, Seagate, Masonboro and Winter Park. All the others have shallow pumps with polluted water. They are continuing to use the open surface privies. The small building in Federal Point township was condemned as being entirely unfit for school purposes, yet I am informed by the county superintendent of public instruction that they are teaching a school in that same building.

Educational Work.

"I have met with the white teachers of the county in a body twice; the colored teachers once. At those meetings I endeavored to point out to the teachers the general laws of hygiene and show them how important it was for them to be able to detect the first symptoms of such diseases as diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough, and how necessary it was that all children should be excluded from school while suffering from any symptoms of a contagious disease. I also warned them against allowing any child to return to school after having been detained from school under quarantine, until they could furnish a certificate from the attending physician or quarantine officer.

"I have made 18 talks, or lectures, at the different schools during the month on school hygiene and better health in the home. Have endeavored to teach the children to set a higher value on health that will tend to a greater conservation of life.

Vaccination.

"According to a regulation adopted in this county several years ago, requiring all school children to have a certificate of vaccination, I find that nearly all the school children are supplied with such certificates. In a great many instances where the vaccination did not take or the child suffering from some defect was not vaccinated, many children are unable to show evidence of ever having been vaccinated. It is our earnest desire not to have a recurrence of a smallpox epidemic in this county. Acting under the regulation of the present County Board of Health, requiring all children and teachers to produce evidence of successful vaccination unless they have had smallpox, I am visiting every school, examining every teacher and pupil. Every teacher or pupil found not to be successfully vaccinated, unless they have had smallpox, is immediately vaccinated or excluded from school until they are successfully vaccinate.d

"I have visited and examined the following schools during October, to wit: Acorn Branch, white, examined 28; vaccinated, 12. Castle Haynes, white, examined, 36; vaccinated, 18. Castle Haynes, colored, examined, 37; vaccinated, 14. Wrightsboro, white, examined, 56; vaccinated, 22, and one teacher. Wrightsville, white, examined, 22; vaccinated, 9 and one teacher. Seagate, colored, examined, 36; vaccinated, 13. Myrtle Grove No. 3, white, examined, 30; vaccinated 9. Myrtle Grove No. 3, colored, examined, 17; vaccinated, 7. Myrtle Grove No. 8, white (school was out), examined, 6; vaccinated, 3 and teacher. School on Federal Point Road, white, examined, 16; vaccinated, 8; Seagate, white (sixth and eighth grades), examined, 21; vaccinated 6 and teacher; Scott's Hill, white, examined, 7; vaccinated, 5.

"The colored schools were so poorly attended, the children being required to gather their crops, I thought it best to wait until later when we would have a full school."

The report of Dr. Nesbitt, who is registrar of births and deaths, shows there were 61 births in October, 32 white and 29 colored. There were 49 deaths, 22 white and 27 colored. Deaths under five years 11; four white and seven colored. There were three non-resident deaths, two white and one colored. Temporary resident death rate per 1,000 in the city: White 15.4; colored 21.6; total 18.4.

The report of Dr. Thos. B. Carroll, meat and dairy inspector, showed that during the month he made 28 inspections of dairies and dairy farms; the health of cattle and attendants and the sanitary conditions were good, with the exception of some of the cow lots and this was due to the recent heavy rains. He made 1,305 inspections of fresh slaughtered meats as follows: 328 cattle; 864 hogs; 113 sheep, with only two hogs condemned for food purposes. Dr. Carroll also made bacterial count of milk during the month, all the dairies passing but some showing up better than others in the following order: Echo Farm, Johnson, Graft, Rogers, Collins, Cape Fear, Kline, Emmart, Branch, Barlow, H. L. Kidd, Martindale and Spencer. The samples examined were taken from the wagons while delivering.

Mr. John M. Mathers, plumbing inspector, reported: Number of permits 66; number fixtures 164; number sewer connections 50; number inspections 168.

Chief of Sanitary Police Piner reported: Number of inspections made 13,187; number of closets ordered cleaned 4,162; number closets cleaned (report of Mr. Holton 4,045); number complaints 306.

The board granted Dr. Nesbitt a vacation of four weeks beginning December 1st. He will spend this time in New York.

Club Will Move Into New Quarters.

The Cape Fear Club will probably begin today to move into its new home, corner of Second and Chesnut streets. The work of demolishing the building, corner Front and Chesnut streets, now occupied by the club, will begin this morning. There were several bidders for the building, but Mr. John J. Furlong's was the highest, and it was sold to him. The work must be completed within a month, and when it is finished the construction of the new Murchison National Bank building will begin. While the new quarters of the club, one of the handsomest buildings in this section, are still incomplete, it is in shape for occupancy. When the new furniture is received and installed the members of the club will have an elaborate house warming.

cational work, and those who know him and have heard him speak know that this means an address that will be worth while, and one that everyone who can possibly do so should hear. As a speaker he ranks among the best in the entire South. He is known throughout the country as one of the ablest living educators. He will be introduced by Prof. Washington Catlett, county superintendent of education.

Following Dr. Joyner Miss Edith Royster, of Raleigh, assistant superintendent of education of Wake county, will speak on Betterment Work. She will be introduced by Mrs. M. L. Stover, president of North Carolina Sorosis. Miss Royster is president of the Betterment Association of Wake county, and is also president of the North Carolina Grammar School Teachers' Association. She has had many years of experience in educational and betterment work, and her address will be full of practical interest.

This afternoon Mr. T. E. Browne, of Raleigh, director of the Boys' Corn Clubs, and Mr. C. R. Hudson, of Raleigh, in charge of the farm demonstration work in this State, will make addresses on their respective lines. Both these gentlemen are widely known for their splendid work in bringing about better farming conditions and will no doubt be heard by large audiences. Mr. Hudson was to have spoken yesterday but was unable to get here in time.

This afternoon Messrs. Browne and Hudson and F. A. Brown, of Wilmington, will judge the corn now on exhibit and will announce the prize winners.

The fair continues through tomorrow, and those who are unable to visit the exhibition today should by all means do so tomorrow. It is an education in itself. Many predict that this will be the beginning of an annual fair for New Hanover, and judging from the great success of this one there is every reason to believe that this will be true.

—Yesterday afternoon's Fayetteville Observer: "Snow fell quite plentifully in Fayetteville and vicinity last night between 9 and 10 o'clock, but there were no traces of it this morning, and the sun rose in clear skies."

WEEK OF PRAYER.

Special Services at Y. M. C. A. Each Night This Week.

A week of prayer services held each night this week at the Y. M. C. A. are being largely attended by the young men of the city. A notable feature of the services is the deep devotional spirit manifested. This week of prayer services are being held by all the Young Men's Christian Associations throughout the world, and their object is to bring about a greater interest in the important work which the associations are striving to accomplish.

The subject discussed at the service last night was "The Power of God for Our Spiritual Life," Mr. W. M. Cumming was the leader. The subject tonight will be "That All May be One", and the leader will be Rev. H. W. Koelling, assistant pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. The services are held in the lecture room of the Y. M. C. A. from 7:30 to 8 o'clock. All interested are invited to attend.

Luncheon at Fair Building.

The business men of the city, and the many visitors to Wilmington this week should bear in mind that they can get luncheon any time during the day at the Corn Show and Industrial Exhibit building on Chesnut street. Oysters and a variety of appetizing dishes are served by the ladies in charge. Those who wish to get a warm, wholesome meal quickly should be sure to visit the Fair building. The profits go to defray the expenses of the fair.

House Damaged by Fire.

A house at No. 1015 North Eighth street, owned by Hester Davis, colorer, and occupied by Josephine Everett, also colored, was badly damaged by fire last night at 8 o'clock, the loss being estimated at $200. The fire department was called out and promptly responded. The firemen were able to stop the blaze soon after their arrival. Sparks from the chimney were supposed to have caused the fire.

COTTON MARKET GOES LOWER

Under Liquidation and Selling Attributed to Some of the Larger Spot Interests—Crop Estimates of 15,000,000 Bales.

New York, Nov. 11.—The cotton market was lower today under liquidation and selling, attributed to some of the larger spot interests. Rumors that a prominent Memphis spot firm would issue a crop estimate of 15,000,000 bales and talk of a slackening trade demand may have been partly responsible for the decline, but there was no report of weakness in the interior markets and there was practically nothing fresh in the way of crop news.

Spinners were said to be calling cotton again this morning, but the buying of that sort was not so much in evidence as it was yesterday, and the market closed barely steady, at a net decline of 35 points on August, and of 15 to 23 points on the general list.

Liverpool was lower than expected and attributed its failure to fully meet yesterday's local advance to New York, and continental selling. One of the private cables also reported increase hedge selling, and the local market opened at a decline of 5 points under scattering liquidation. Moderate trade buying and covering caused a rally to a shade over the closing figures of last night, but offerings increased around 13.15 for January, or about 2 points net higher, and the market was weak and unsettled later in the day under renewed liquidation. The close was at practically the lowest point, with January selling at 12.95 in the late trading, or about 20 points off from the high level of the morning. Houses with Montreal connections were among the chief buyers on the midday rally. There was some Southern selling here early, but offerings from that source were not much in evidence on the afternoon decline, and most of the private wires received said that interior holders were firm in their views, with the buying basis rather more difficult in some parts of the Eastern belt, particularly on high grade cotton. Good weather was reported in the South for picking, and the semi-weekly interior movement showed a relatively large increase in the stocks.

Spot cotton, quiet. Middling uplands, 13.00; middling gulf, 13.85; no sales.

Cotton futures closed barely steady.

REFUND OLD DEBT.

Louisiana May Issue $11,000,000.00 Worth of 50 Year Bonds.

Baton Rouge, La., Nov. 10.—After a thorough study of financial conditions as they might relate to conditions surrounding an effort to refund the debt of Louisiana, administration officials are prepared to submit what they believe will be an attractive refunding plan to the constitutional convention, which met at noon today. The State's debt is something over $11,000,000, due January 1.

The ordinance drafted would authorize the State board of liquidation to issue $11,108,300 of serial bands, payable in not exceeding fifty years, with interest not to exceed 4 1-2 per cent.

BIG ADVANCE IN STOCKS

Quotations Moved Upward Yesterday as Abruptly as They Declined the Day Before—Swift Reaction.

New York, Nov. 11.—Quotations moved upward on the stock exchange today as abruptly as they declined yesterday. The disquieting liquidation of the preceding session had entirely disappeared, and both railroad and industrial shares advanced strongly.

Higher prices were well maintained until the last hour, when a swift reaction cancelled much of the day's gains. The change in the market apparently was due primarily to the strong technical position.

Outside influences were little in evidence, although a more cheerful view of the Mexican situation had some effect in the upturn. It was felt that fears of an immediate Mexican crisis had been exaggerated. Buying for foreign account helped in the upward swing. The Copper stocks were benefitted by the rally in copper metal abroad.

Both traders sought to make capital of the arbitration board's award of wage increase to Eastern trainmen. Speculators, however, had expected some such compromise.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,246,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total stock sales, 229,000, including C. and O., 500; Lehigh Valley, 10,800; Reading, 32,000; S. A. L., pfd., 200; Southern Railway, 600; Southern Railway, pfd., 100; Tennessee Copper, 300; United States Steel, 54,100; Virginia-Carolina Chemical, 200.

TAZELAAR THROWN OUT.

American Federation of Labor Refuses to Accept His Credentials.

Seattle, Wash., November 11.—The American Federation of Labor today refused to accept the credentials of Jacob Tazelaar, delegate of the Painters, Paper Hangers and Decorators' Union, and ordered that he bee excluded from the floor of the convention hall.

Tazelaar was named by Colonel Martin M. Mulhall, former agent of the National Association of Manufacturers, as having been employed by Mulhall to work against the election of Representative (now Senator) William Hughes, of New Jersey. Mulhall swore before a Congressional committee that he paid Tazelaar $1,800 for his services against Hughes, whom the National Association of Manufacturers was seeking to defeat.

Much of today's session was taken up by the reading of the report of G. W. Perkins, president of the International Cigars Makers' Union, delegate to the International Secretariat which met at Zurich, Switzerland, last September. Largely through Mr. Perkins' efforts the World's Trades Union Congress will be held in San Francisco in 1815.

Kiev, Russia, Nov. 11.—Armed kossacks still patrolled the streets of Kiev today to suppress any disorder that might have marked the conclusion of the Beliss trial. The authorities announced that they would suppress with an iron hand any outbreak which might be instigated by anti-Semitic agitation.

New Orleans, Nov. 11.—Delegates to the first Louisiana State suffrage convention, voted this afternoon in favor of organization of a conference of Southern women suffragists which would meet annually. Representatives from several Southern cities are here and each was introduced and made a brief address today.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 11.—Twenty-two mutineers of the bark Manga Reva had a hearing before a Federal commissioner here today. Three of them pleaded guilty. The others pleaded not guilty. The commissioner held them all under bail.

suits than if you pay less. If you can afford $25 for a suit you'll be better satisfied than if you pay $18 or $20. It's logical that a maker who wants to put all the value possible into his goods can put in more for $25 than he can for $18 or $20.

If $18 or $20 is all you can afford, don't be ashamed of it; you'll get a suit you needn't be ashamed of, if you buy here.

FAMINE FOLLOWS IN WAKE OF SNOW

worst snow storm in its history descended upon it Sunday night.

Damage from the blizzard has already reached many millions of dollars, and five lives are known to have been lost. A resumption of the storm would mean additional deaths, since it would prevent relief from the food scarcity which the city now faces. Rain would seriously complicate the situation because flood conditions then would ensue.

As a result of the disturbed state of the lake, a new menace developed today. The drinking water has turned the color of coffee and warnings were issued by the health department to obviate a typhoid epidemic by boiling drinking water.

The number of known dead as a result of the storm was increased to five today when John Richmond, was crushed to death by the collapse of the roof of his house beneath the weight of the snow, and William Combert was frozen in a snow drift.

Steps toward tyding up the city were made possible this afternoon when the snow fall ceased for a period. Fifteen hundred workmen succeeded in putting 14 city street car lines in order and others probably will be running on schedule by tomorrow.

In the meantime telegraph and telephone companies cleared away a large part of the wreckage resulting from the destruction of poles and established a few connections with neighboring cities. The work of rehabilitation so far has developed that the vortex of the blizzard was limited to a radius of about 50 miles around Cleveland.

Telegraph, telephone and railroad companies hope to return to their normal service tomorrow.

Hospital Handicapped.

The hospitals are greatly handicapped. Some lack proper food and others have had to do with candle light.

Not until the snow clears away will the police be able to solve the mystery of numerous disappearances.

Business men and factory owners estimated the loss in business to wholesale and retail companies alone at several million dollars.

A great part of the citizens are unable to leave their homes. The streets are impassable for wagons and undertakers are unable to remove the bodies of persons who have died since the breaking of the storm. The bodies of seven persons who have died at hospitals since Sunday night have not yet been taken to morgues, and several more are being held at the city's correction farm. Even private funerals cannot be held as the bodies cannot be taken to the cemeteries. Many bakeries are closed because of lack of power and unless coal trains can reach the city soon an alarming bread shortage threatens.

There is an actual milk famine because the camps are unable to deliver the milk on hand or obtain any more from dairies in the surrounding country.

An average of 24 inches of snow fell during the storm and snow drifts have piled as high as 20 feet.

Every highway throughout this section will be impassable for several days. The city schools were closed today but probably will be opened again tomorrow. Three hundred passengers were reported marooned in interurban cars at Gates Mill near here late today.

An ice plated train consisting of 40 carloads of hogs and chickens is stalled in West Cleveland. The stock is freezing. The steamer Cornelius, laden with coal, which cleared late today for Lorain, is the first ship to venture outside the harbor breakwater since Sunday. It is believed here that the steamer G. J. Grammer, which went aground off Lorain will be saved. It was reported here that breeches buoy was in position ready to take off Capt. John Burns, of Buffalo and his crew of 22 if danger is threatened.

Pounding to Pieces.

Huron, Mich., Nov. 11.—According to messages received tonight from the Canadian shore of Lake Huron, seven bodies had been washed ashore at Kettle Point, and a ship, grounded far out from the point, was being pounded to pieces by the waves. Seven other bodies, it was declared, could be seen on the decks of the stranded vessel.

Only a part of the boat's name could be made out, that being the one word "Queen". The Northern Queen, a steel freighter of Buffalo, has not been accounted for since she passed this port Sunday morning, headed into Lake Huron.

How long the ship has been on the rocks no one on shore knows. She was first sighted late today. No help can be sent, as the nearest life saving station is located here and the seas are still to heavy to permit sending small boats so great a distance. There is no wire communication with Kettle Point.

Many Lives Lost.

Detroit, Mich., November 11.—The worst blizzard of the season, which raged over the Great Lakes for 18 hours began to subside today. As the waters washing Eastern Michigan grew calmer they began to cast ashore their dead. No one, perhaps, will ever know how many sailors lost their lives, and ship owners said today that while it may take a month to definitely total the damage, it was certain that shipping on Lake Huron and the Detroit and St. Clair rivers suffered a loss of several hundred thousand dollars.

Tonight, guarded by wrecking tugs, the black-bottomed freighter which tosses in Lake Huron keel upward, was still an unidentified derelict. Marine men who returned to Port Huron late tonight believed she was the steamer J. M. Jenks. However, William Livingston, president of the Lake Carriers' Association, dispelled that belief tonight when he announced the Jenks was safe in a harbor in Georgian Bay, Ontario.

Mr. Livingstone said men from the wrecking tugs were able to approach close enough to examine the overturned hulk. They found several peculiarities of the construction which indicated to them that the steamer was not of American build, said Mr. Livingstone. As her beam is only above 45 feet, the vessel certainly could not be more than 300 feet long. That Mr. Livingstone eliminates rumors that she might be on of two or three big freighters not heard from since Sunday.

"We have hopes of identifying the freighter tomorrow," Mr. Livingstone added. "Washington today ordered the revenue cutter Morrill to the assistance of the derelict. We understand the cutter will stand by until the name of the freighter is known."

Three bodies were found on the west shore of Lake Huron today, two near Port Frank and one above Point Edward. The latter probably was that of a sailor.

A special from London, Ont., today stated that five bodies had been washed ashore at St. Josephs, above Kettle Point, on the Canadian shore of Lake Huron. Four had on life belts marked "Wexford," and the other wore a belt marked "London."

It is thought they may have been victims of the overturned freighter disaster.

The steamers Matthew Andrews, Hawgood, Harlow, Victory, Acadian and W. C. Pollock, driven aground or hurled ashore by Sunday's terrific winds, were said to have either been released or resting in a satisfactory manner today.

Steamer a Wreck.

Calumet, Mich., November 11.—The steamer Turrett, chief of the Merchants' Mutual Line of Ontario, is a total wreck six miles east of Copper Harbor, Keweenaw Point. She went ashore early Saturday, 50 miles out of her course. The loss is estimated at $100,000. She had no cargo.

The crew of 17 reached shore safely, shortly after the boat struck and built a hut in which they remained until yesterday morning when they were directed to Copper Harbor by Indians. They suffered terribly from exposure and sustained badly frozen feet.

Huronic Safe.

Port Arthur, Ont., November 11.—Tnee Northern Navigation steamer Huronic, with 50 passengers aboard, got off the bar at White Fish late this afternoon without damage.

Clear of Rocks.

Harbor Beach, Mich., Nov. 11.—The steamer D. O. Mills, which was blown ashore near this port, freed herself today and has started down Lake Huron.

The Howard M. Hanna is still ashore at Pointe Aux Barques. The Hanna is in no immediate danger, and the crew is safe aboard.

In West Virginia.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 11.—A snow storm began this morning over the Pan-Handle of West Virginia and reports from other sections South and East show the storm is general. The State has not recovered from Sunday's blizzard, and it is feared that if the snow continues much greater damage and suffering will result.

Three Sailors Drowned.

Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Nov. 11. — The steam freighter William Nottingham, of Cleveland, is fast on a rocky reef between Sand and Parisian islands, with some of her plates buckled and in bad shape.

The vessel struck late Monday. In an effort to summon assistance, a boat was lowered, but it capsized. Three sailors were drowned. The surviving members of the crew remained aboard the vessel tonight.

ADD RESULTS. ....

Rescue Work.

Lorain, O., Nov. 11.—After a battle with high waves on the lake, the life saving crew today reached the steamer G. J. Grammer, which went aground near this port during the storm. The life savers brought the wife of the steamer's steward ashore in the surf boat. The crew said to number 24, is still aboard the vessel.

Brough: to Port.

Queenstown, Nov. 11.—The steamship Rappahannock, brought into port tonight the steamship South Point, bound from Philadelphia to London. The South Point's engines were crippled in a terrific storm November 4th.

Hunters Perished.

Sebewaing, Mich., Nov. 11.—Seven hunters are believed to have perished Sunday in the hurricane that swept Saginaw Bay. The men were in duck boats half a mile from short.

J. Ruby, of this place, forced to leave the hunting grounds when his boat began to fill, saw eight men in the rushes as he passed. Of these one is known to have escaped. An empty boat was found tonight in the woods.

MAKES INQUIRY.

President Wilson Looks Into Lewis-Pindell Letter Affair.

Washington, Nov. 11.—President Wilson personally inquired today into details of the tangle over the publication of letters purported to have been written by Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, offering Henry M. Pindell the ambassadorship to Russia for one year without diplomatic responsibilities.

Mr. Pindell arrived in Washington early today with Secretary Bryan and Samuel M. Graham, assistant attorney general, laid the details of the subject before the President.

Mr. Pindell furnished copies of all correspondence that had actually passed between himself and Senator Lewis.

"The matter is entirely in the President's hands," said Mr. Pindell, as he left the executive offices. No other word was forthcoming from anybody. There was an intimaition that an official statement clarifying the whole affair would be issued tomorrow.

Senator Lewis later conferred with Mr. Graham and then with Secretary Bryan. He declined to talk. Friends of Mr. Pindell said tonight that he and Senator Lewis were on as friendly terms as ever.

PROGRESSIVE POLYGAMY.

Divorce Disease So Characterized by Speaker.

Minneapolis, November 11.—The social evil can be stamped out as positively and as easily as typhoid or yellow fever, but it must be along scientific lines, said Dr. T. B. Crothers, of Hartford, Conn., in his address to the International Purity Congress today. "This can be done by coercion, segregation and a higher recognition of the caucuses which exist in every community," he said.

Divorce was characterized as "the greatest question in the world today, a National crime against childhood and a confession of failure and weakness by the American people," by Bishop J. N. McCormick, of Grand Rapids, Mich.

"The number of divorces granted in America is an evidence that we favor trial marriage and that we are practicing progressive polygamy," the speaker declared.

MR. HERBERT LEWIS DEAD.

Pneumonia Causes Death of Prominent Citizen Near Lumberton.

(By Long Distance Telephone.)

Lumberton, N. C., November 11.—Mr. Herbert Lewis, brother of Sheriff R. E. Lewis, died at his residence near Morse Neck, nine miles west of here at 4 o'clock this morning. Mr. Lewis had been sick for several days with pneumonia. He was one of the largest and most successful farmers in that section, his plantation being estimated to be worth $15,000. He is survived by a wife and several children. The funeral will be conducted tomorrow at 11 o'clock from the residence, interment being made near the home.

DEMAND REDRESS.

Want Wilson to Change Segregation of Negroes in Washington.

New York, Nov. 11.—Prompt redress by President Wilson and others in authority at Washington was demanded by the Unitarian conference of the Middle States and Canada here in a resolution setting forth that negro employes in Federal departments are being "segregated on the ground that some white citizens in the same service object to associating or should not be required to associate with them."

REPRESENTATIVES GATHER IN LONDON

chairman of the merchants' shipping advisory committee; Sir John Biles, chairman of the departmental committee on boats and davits, and Capt. Acton Blake, deputy master of Trinity House.

The experts are Capt. F. G. Loring, inspector of wireless telegraphy to the general postoffice; Commander M. W. Campbell Hepworth, of the meteorological office; Commander J. W. T. Charles, commander of the Lusitania, and J. Havelock Wilson, general secretary of the Seamen's Union.

The subjects to be considered include: Boats and life saving appliances. Bulkheads and watertight compartments. Fire extinguisheing appliances. Efficient manning of boats. Boat drill, fire drill and bulkhead drill. Extended use of wireless telegraphy. Assitance to ships in distress. Ice warnings to ships. Steamship routes.

On many of these matters there is no principle at issue, "Boats for All" for instance being an accepted policy, as is the necessity for compulsory wireless. The conference will aim at an agreement for uniformity of practice and will try to decide to which vessels these compulsory regulations are to extend.

For example, the seaman's union demands that all cargo steamers shall have wireless installation, while the owners object to the expense.

On the other hand, the better subdivision of ships to make them as unsinkable as practicable is a highly technical matter which shipbuilders and ship owners will watch very closely to see that they are not too far hampered or penalized.

Other questions such as boat and fire drills have usually been dealt with by domestic regulations and to reach an agreement, national prejudices will have to be subordinated to the general interest.

In connection with the conference, it is noted that the London Firemen's & Sailors' Union has passed a resolution binding its members not to sign after May 1st, 1914, any ocean-going steamer not equipped with wireless.

GONE FOOTBALL CRAZY.

New York Resembles College Town on Eve of Big Games.

New York, Nov. 11.—With the first of the two big football games to be played in this city set for Saturday, local interest in the gridiron sport is rapidly rising to the standard set by college towns. Despite the overshadowing effect of the Yale-Princeton game at New Haven, there is a big demand for tickets for the Carlisle-Dartmouth contest at the Polo Grounds next Saturday.

Great as is the interest in this game, however, it falls short of the general enthusiasm and ticket demand for the Army and Navy contest on November 29th. The ticket demand already exceeds the seating capacity of the Polo Grounds by many thousands. Secretary John Foster, of the New York Baseball Club, estimates that close to 75,000 seat coupons could have been sold.

SHIPS ICE BOUND.

One Whaler Lost While Rest of Fleet Frozen Up.

San Francisco, Nov. 11.—News of the loss of the whaler Elvira, on the Northern Alaskan coast, was received here today in a dispatch from Circle, on the Yukon river. Capt. Peterson and his crew of 15 men were reported safe.

The same message said the fleet of vessels in the Arctic or along the Alaskan coast was ice bound.

It reported the old whaler Belvedere carrying part of the equipment of the Vilhjalmur Stefansson, exploring expedition, fast in the ice, but did not give her location.

The schooner Mary Sachs, bearing Dr. Anderson's scientific expedition, which went north to engage in research work among the natives, is reported ice bound off Collinson Point.

NEW RIVER IMPROVEMENT.

Channel From Jacksonville to Richlands Too Narrow and Crooked.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Improvement of the New River in North Carolina from Jacksonville to near Richlands, a distance of 17 miles, is not advisable, the War Department today reported to the House.

New River is 52 miles long and empties into the Atlantic about midway between Capes Lookout and Fear. It is now being improved for a channel 200 feet wide and five feet deep from its mouth to Jacksonville, 23 miles in distance.

The river from Jacksonville to Richlands is officially characterized as too narrow and crooked and the cost too great in proportion to the probable resulting benefits to commerce to be improved.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

400 Delegates Attend Session of the Southern Church in Virginia.

Danville, Va., November 11.—The Virginia Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, opened a week's session in the Main Street church here tonight, Bishop Collins Denny, of Richmond, Va., presiding, with about 250 clerical and lay delegates answering the initial roll call.

Tonight's gathering was devoted to organization and the administration of communion. Rev. Samuel S. Lambeth, D. D., was re-elected secretary, a post he has held for many years. Business sessions until 1 P. M. will be had daily with committee work in the afternoon and addresses in the evening. The attendance will reach 400 when all the clerical lay members arrive.

VALUABLE MAIL STOLEN.

Pouch Containing $638.40 Taken from Government Wagon.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—A pouch of registered mail stolen today from a United States mail wagon, yielded the thief $638.40, according to a statement by postal inspectors tonight. It had been reported earlier in the day that valuables worth $10,000 were in the pouch.

Inspectors are seeking for Albert P. Tardy, driver of the wagon from which the mail was stolen.

Bayard Hale, supposed to be the personal representative of President Wilson, immediately after crossing the international line into Mexico at 9 o'clock, went into conference with Venustiano Carranza, leader of the Constitutionalist forces. It was indicated that tonight's meeting was merely preliminary to formal conferences to be begun tomorrow.

Gen. Carranza is making Nogales, Sonora, his provisional capital, admittedly anticipating some move on the part of the Washington officials that will greatly affect the Constitutionalist movement.

Hale to Mexico.

Tucson, Ariz., Nov. 11.—William Bayard Hale, supposedly a representative of the Washington administration, departed hurriedly from here in an automobile late today, after the receipt of dispatches from Washington. His destination was believed to be Nogales, Sonora, where Gen. Carranza, leader of the Constitutionalists, is making his temporary headquarters.

Before leaving Mr. Hale had a short talk with W. J. Bryan, Jr., son of the Secretary of State.

Mr. Hale conferred here today with Felix Sommerfield, a former secret agent of Madero, now said to be serving Carranza in the same capacity. Both denied they had discussed the Mexican situation.

Leavenwort, Kas., November 11.—The second hquadron of the 15th Cavalry left Fort Leavenworth today for Fort Bliss, Texas, to relieve a squadron of the Fifth Cavalry on the Mexican border.

Chicago, November 11.—K, L and M, of the 15th United States Cavalry, left Fort Sheridan today for El Paso, Texas, where the regiment will be re-united next Friday.

Athens, November 11.—The Greek and Turkish Peace delegates reached an agreement today on practically all points under negotiation. They initiated a draft convention which it is believed will result in a complete settlement of differences.
